NATION WIDE STOPPAGE OF WORK FEARED IF RAIL WORKERS STRIKE

UNION LEADERS EXPRESS ALARM AT SITUATION

Slight Prospect Of Averting Walkout of Workers.

MEN DISGRUNTLED

Final Action Hinges on Wilson's Action on Bill.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Railroad union leaders who have been working to prevent a nation wide strike today expressed alarm at the outlook.

It is admitted now that there is slight prospect of averting a strike of the four hundred maintenance of way employes and shop laborers if the president signs the Cummins-Esch bill without providing a special wage tribunal and guaranteeing immediate relief.

The Brotherhood of Railroad Clerks with a membership of 300.000 including steamship clerks, freight handlers station and express employes is also threatening strike action.

The fear of the leaders is that the strike of one union will extend until there is a nation wide stoppage of work. so disgruntled are the workers in all organizations.

In event the president signs the Cummins-Esch bill. there is also danger, it was stated today, that the sentiment for a general strike will be so strong as to force concerted action by the fourteen organizations in the new railroad alliance despite all efforts of the leaders to prevent it.

Significance is attached to the fact that all fourteen in the reports of their separate conferences submitted to E. J. Manion. secretary of the alliance, announced that their future course hinges on the president's action on the Cummins-Esch bill.

All grand lodge officials of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of way employes and shop laborers, the order of telegraphers, the brotherhood of railroad clerks and the order of railway signal men are remaining in Washington to attend the mass meeting to be called as soon as the president takes action on the Cummis-Esch bill. Only the chief executives of the other organizations remained. These have full authority to act however.

SAY PROHIBITION INCENTIVE TO THE BOLSHEVIKS

London, Feb. 27.---Prohibition was attacked as "an incentive to bolshevism" by the Morning Post today in an editorial commenting upon the activities of American "dry" workers in this country. Under the caption "A Glass of Good Beer," the Morning Post said:

"America is like the fox in Aesops fable that lost its tail and then tried to persuade the others that tails were useless. We gather that things are not altogether well in bone-dry America. The anti-saloonists are forced to spend enormous sums in preparing for the enforcement of the law."

The newspaper referred to the "increase of serious crime in the United States." ending that this does not encourage the hope of a new heaven upon earth from prohibition. It urges preparations here "to prevent Russian tactics by the prohibition workers."

FINAL DECREE ENTERED IN THE PACKERS' CASE

Washington, Feb. 27.—Final decree was entered today in the supreme court of the district of Columbia dissolving the unrelated industries of the large packers. The decree was in accordance with an agreement reached between Attorney General Palmer and the "Big Five."

The pact between Attorney General Palmer and the packers which is bound by the decree entered today, is in lieu of the prosecution of the packers, which was planned against the packers by the department of justice.

Chief Justice McCoy entered the decree at the request of the attorney general.

"The decree which the department of justice has brought about by urgent insistence, is designed to restore freedom to competition and increase the opportunities for individual initiative in business which in time must bear good fruit for the public welfare," said Mr. Palmer.

COAL CO. FILES SUIT AGAINST DIRECTOR GENERAL

Washington, Feb. 27.—Declaring that the war time order for the distribution and diversion of coal is no longer effective and that the interests of the public demand its continuance, the United States Illuminating Company of New Haven, Conn., today filed suit against Walker D. TREATY MATTERS AT STANDSTILL LEADERS FEARFUL

Conferences Hastily Called Following Note Exchange.

EFFECT IS DISCUSSED

Await Final Settlement of Adriatic Question.

Washington, Feb. 27.—Conferences of Senate leaders were hastily called today following publication of the exchange of notes between President Wilson and the allied premiers over the Adriatic situation to determine the effect of the notes on the treaty situation in the senate.

The response of the British and French premiers, in their note of February 17, that they "view with consternation" the threat of the withdrawal of the United States from the league of nations and "earnestly trust that whatever the final view of the United States government as to the Adriatic settlement may be they will not wreck the whole machinery for dealing with international disputes by withdrawal from the treaties of 1919 because their view is not adopted in this particular case," was construed by senators as fresh evidence that the British and French governments are anxious to get the American people into the league.

It was generally agreed that the publicity given to the exchange of notes had thrown the treaty situation completely up in the air.

Doubt was expressed by some senators as to whether it would be worth while for the senate to proceed with its consideration of the treaty while the outcome of the Adriatic crisis remained in doubt.

The fact the response of the British and French premiers to President Wilson's note on the subject was only dispatched from London yesterday and had not yet reached the state department, further complicated the question.

HEALTH OFFICER WILL ENFORCE COUNTY LAWS

Authority of enforcing the health laws, through the power given to the health commissioner will, in the opinion of Dr. R. H. Grube, now health commissioner for all of Greene county furnished the means of preper control of contagious disease which was lacking heretofore.

Under the old plan, enforcement of the health laws in the county outside the cities and towns, was under control of the township trustees, who employed a doctor as health officer.

"While it may seem strange," said Dr. Grube in discussing the matter, many people in the country resent quarantine. They take it as an affront, and very frequently absolutely refuse to obey the quarantine orders given them by the local health officer. Perhaps on Saturday the doctor has found a case of contagious disease in the house, and tells the family to stay at home, and refuse admission to callers. In spite of the doctor's orders, the house will probably be filled with visitors the next day. The local doctor, perhaps a neighbor, and often the family doctor, does not find himself able, very frequently to cope with the situation," said Dr. Grube, "but with the power given him, the county health commissioner can step in, and take absolute control of the situation, enforcing the quarantine, and preventing the spread of the contagion which would have taken place through disregard of the health laws."

Dr. Grube has addressed to all the physicians of the county, a circular letter, notifying them of his appointment, and asking their co-operation in enforcement of the health law.

Roper, the present commissioner of internal revenue, intends to tender his resignation formally early next week, and that when he goes out of the service his assistant and right-hand man, Joseph H. Callan, will go with him. Among those who are being considered for commissioner is former Representative William B. Francis of Martins Ferry, O.

WARFARE CEASES IN RUSSIA AFTER 3 YEARS CONFLICT

With Formal Recognition Near Strife Lessens.

STILL MAINTAIN ARMY

Truce Reigns Between Northern Russia and Soviets.

London, Feb. 27.—With the soviet government nearer formal recognition by the allies than at any time since it was set up by Nicholai Lenine and Leon Trotsky in the summer of 1917, warfare on a big scale has ceased in Russia.

The soviet is maintaining five powerful armies under arms, but the scattered fighting now reported consists mainly of patrol encounters or clashes between isolated factions of the Bolsheviks and the anti-red Russians.

A truce reigns throughout northern Russia, where the soviet is now in control of all of the Archangel and Murmansk districts. A great Bolshevik army has been concentrated near the Polish frontier but there are indications that Poland and Moscow will soon make peace upon terms approved by the allies.

Another Bolshevik army has been concentrated in Bessarabia and has been threatening Roumania with invasion, but belief is expressed that the allied suggestion that the states bordering on Russia make immediate peace with the Moscow soviet will eventually hold up offensive operations in that theater. Patrol skirmishes have been reported from the Dneister river line, where the Roumanians have prepared fortifications.

The only war zone where fighting of any real importance has been reported recently is between the sea of Azov and the Caspian Sea where the scatered remnants of Gen. Derikin's old army are now stationed. The soviet forces have been extending their area of occupation and claim to have taken the important city of Rostov on the Don.

A lull exists upon the Siberian front, but the Bolsheviks have large forces upon the Chinese frontier, according to official reports to the British war office

FOUR MASKED MEN ROUTED IN BATTLES WITH FEW CITIZENS

New Castle, Ky., Feb. 27.—Routed in a gun battle with citizens early this morning, four masked robbers who blew the safe of the Smithfield bank escaped after a lively exchange of shots. Miss Lottie Saxton, telephone operator, who saw the men enter the bank, gave the alarm. The robbers fled through a back door of the bank, carrying a sack, but no statement as to the loss if any to the bank is obtainable. Thousands of dollars in currency and liberty bonds were left strewn on the floor.

Hundreds of shots were fired at the robbers, who returned the fire, but it is said no one was wounded.

FRENCH RAILWAY STRIKE TAKES ON POLITICAL ASPECT

Paris, Feb. 27.--The French railway strike began assuming a political aspect today. Residents of the sububs while enroute home in street cars were taunted by strikers, who shouted: "The burgeois should remain home, but we will suspend street car traffic anyway."

The Parisian syndicalists (the labor extremists) are insisting that the strike should not only continue but extend. A majority of the federation of railwaymen are opposing a general strike. The executive committee of the rail men's union is meeting constantly but the deliberations are secret.

SHARP REPLY OF U.S. BRINGS QUICK REPLY OF ALLIES

Note Leaves London In Answer To President

NITTI INTERFERES

Washington, Feb. 27.—Acceptance of President Wilson's proposal for the settlement of the Adriatic problem by a conference between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, is hoped for by officials here who are today anxiously awaiting the reply of the allied premiers to the president's latest note. The reply is understood to have left London last night and should be in the hands of the president today.

Hopes for a settlement of the entire Adriatic controversy by reopening of negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia were greatly strengthened here by reports from Paris that the quick reply of the allied premiers was due to the action of Premier Nitti of Italy, in agreeing to reopen negotiations with foreign Minister Trumbitch of Jugo-Slavia.

This is accepted here as almost certain proof that Lloyd George and Premier Millerand have notified the president that they will withhold further action in the Adriatic problem until the proposed conference between Nitti and Trumbitch has been completed.

The quick reply made by the entente premiers is interpreted here as an acceptance of the president's proposal, and it is understood that the Italian government is willing to hold a conference with Jugo-Slavia in an attempt to reach an agreement. If the proposal for a conference is accepted and it fails to reach an agreement satisfactory to the United States Great Britain and France, then Italy and Jugo-Slavia must stand by the proposals made by the other allied countries.

The proposed Jugo-Slavia-Italian conference was only hope held out here today for an amicable settlement of the entire situation for the entire exchange of notes, it loomed up as the one possible way out, since President Wilson and the entente premiers have shown no disposition to swerve from their original stand.

President Wilson's flat statement, however, that such a conference could not agree as to the disposition of territory other than that which directly concerns either Italy or Jugo-Slavia, brought some pessimism, for there were many high officials here who believe that neither of the countries concerned in the Adriatic controversy would be able to reach an agreement unless they were given concessions other than those already granted.

The publication of the various notes and memoranda bearing on the dispute between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, revealing a certain frankness, not to say sharpness of language used by both President Wilson as well as the French and British premiers, has proved as much of a sensation in political circles here as was the original news of the cisis over the Adriatic.

That the United States is still hesitating to enter the league of nations appears a certainty, for in the last Anglo-French note, there is no ceding of ground to the president, while in the latter's reply to Prime Ministers Lloyd George and Millerand, he flatly states that he has "no choice but to maintain the position he has all along taken" as regards the settlement of the dispute over the Dalmatian coast.

INCREASE IN SALARIES OF LOCAL OFFICIALS GRANTED

Raise For Fire Department is Tabled Temporarily.

LEASE OPERA HOUSE

Would Put Management Under One Control Permanently.

Ordinnces granting increases in salaries to city officials, excepting the ordinance concerning the fire department, which was tabled pending adjustment of the department to comply with the new two platoon law, were passed at the regular meeting of the City Commission Thursday night.

Ordinances granting increases in salary of City Manager Kenyon Riddle at $3,600 instead of $3.000 annually, drew the only dissenting votes, Commissioners DeHaven and Fisher voting against this ordinance. Ordinance No. 94 raising the salary of the city solicitor from $900 to $1,400 and ordinance No. 95 raising the salary of the city treasurer from $150 to $250 were unanimously passed.

Ordinance 96, fixing the salaries of city firemen, which was also on its second reading, had to be tabled pending changes necessitated by the passage of the two platoon law since the ordinance was drafted. The ordinance provided for a five man department, two to receive $115, two $110, one $80, and two subs at $40 monthly. City Manager Riddle explained that the two platoon system is mandatory and will go into effect in 90 days. Rather than pass the ordinance and then have to amend it, it was tabled for two weeks, when an ordinance will probably be drafted complying with the new law.

Ordinance No. 97 fixing the salaries and providing for an extra man on the police department, passed unanimously. The ordinance fixes the salary, chief $130; assistant $115; motor policemen at $120 and three regular patrolmen at $110. The matter of hours, which has been under dicussion between the department and City Manager Riddle, was settled by an agreement reached between the manager and Chief Canaday, which cuts down the hours from 12 to ten and provides for five men on the department, the same as now. The change will require a shift in the present time schedule.

Ordinance No 98 fixing the salary of the janitor of the city building at $90 was also passed unanimously.

RELEASE MAN ARRESTED ON "STILL" CHARGE

Hayes Valentine, colored, of this city, who was arrested by the Sheriff, and charged with violation of the prohibition law recently was released Thursday without bail.

Valentine was released following the hearing given the men before United States Commissioner Frank Howell in Dayton, Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Following the hearing Howell released Valentine without bond on his own recognizance, retaining in custody, however, John Bowman and Leroy McFarland, arrested on similar charges.

In releasing Valentine, Commissioner Howell consulted with Federal Agent Madden. They took the position that Valentine was a married man and had been working, and that it was better to release him on his own recognizance and permit him to work and support his wife, than to keep him confined until the May term of court.

Valentine said he was guilty of having a quantity of corn mash in his possession, at the hearing Thursday morning. He said that his birthday was to be March 17, and that Robert Shoecraft had suggested to him that they manufacture some booze to celebrate his birthday with. He said he had taken the corn mash into his house so that it would not be bothered.

Sheriff Funderburg was present at the hearing, but left before Commissioner Howell had made the decision to release Valentine, who was given his freedom and arrived in this city at five o'clock Thursday evening.

"The Federal authorities cannot expect my support or help after this," said Sheriff Funderburg. "I put in three months in turning up this case, and they release one of the principals right away. I am through with them from now on, unless they mean business in prosecuting the offenders."

The Sheriff said he would cease investigations he had underway at present for the benefit of the federal authorities, because of their action in releasing Valentine.

SERIOUS PHASE OF RUM REVOLT DISCLOSED AS CITIZENS THREATEN BLOODSHED TO PREVENT ARRESTS

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 27.—A more serious phase of the "Iron County rum revolt" was disclosed today when it was learned that 3.000 citizens of the county, a majority of them miners, were prepared during the invasion of Major A. V. Darymple's prohibition agents to resist by force the arresting without warrants of states Attorney Martin McDonough or other citizens of the county.

According to statements made by citizens, it was planned to hold up the train which was to bear the arrested citizens from the county and take them from the federal agents, with bloodshed if necessary. That the "prohibition expeditionary force" was not menaced on its arrival was said by friends of McDonough to be due to a tour of the country made by him, during which he counselled calmness on the part of all citizens.

Public sentiment here is that the citizenship generally is law abiding and has not broken the prohibition amendment. While many of the residents have large "private stocks" in their cellars, they feel they have just as much right to such possession as have wealthy citizens elsewhere.

This sentiment is to be crystallized today in a public hearing held for the double purpose of "setting Iron county right before the rest of the United States and to convince federal officials that states attorney McDonough was right in his stand against Major Dalrymple. The hearing is to be presided over by United States District Attorney Myron Walker of Grand Rapids; a representative of the department of justice and a representative of Attorney General Groesbeck.

In the meantime the wondering natives, many of whom are of foreign antecedents, cannot understand why such a to-do is being made over the whole situation.

"We have always had wine since we were children," is heard everywhere. "Why should our government wish to deprive us of it?"

Washington, Feb. 27.—Acceptance of President Wilson's proposal for the settlement of the Adriatic problem by a conference between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, is hoped for by officials here who are today anxiously awaiting the reply of the allied premiers to the president's latest note. The reply is understood to have left London last night and should be in the hands of the president today.

Hopes for a settlement of the entire Adriatic controversy by reopening of negotiations between Italy and Jugo-Slavia were greatly strengthened here by reports from Paris that the quick reply of the allied premiers was due to the action of Premier Nitti of Italy, in agreeing to reopen negotiations with foreign Minister Trumbitch of Jugo-Slavia.

This is accepted here as almost certain proof that Lloyd George and Premier Millerand have notified the president that they will withhold further action in the Adriatic problem until the proposed conference between Nitti and Trumbitch has been completed.

The quick reply made by the entente premiers is interpreted here as an acceptance of the president's proposal, and it is understood that the Italian government is willing to hold a conference with Jugo-Slavia in an attempt to reach an agreement. If the proposal for a conference is accepted and it fails to reach an agreement satisfactory to the United States Great Britain and France, then Italy and Jugo-Slavia must stand by the proposals made by the other allied countries.

The proposed Jugo-Slavia-Italian conference was only hope held out here today for an amicable settlement of the entire situation for the entire exchange of notes, it loomed up as the one possible way out, since President Wilson and the entente premiers have shown no disposition to swerve from their original stand.

President Wilson's flat statement, however, that such a conference could not agree as to the disposition of territory other than that which directly concerns either Italy or Jugo-Slavia, brought some pessimism, for there were many high officials here who believe that neither of the countries concerned in the Adriatic controversy would be able to reach an agreement unless they were given concessions other than those already granted.

The publication of the various notes and memoranda bearing on the dispute between Italy and Jugo-Slavia, revealing a certain frankness, not to say sharpness of language used by both President Wilson as well as the French and British premiers, has proved as much of a sensation in political circles here as was the original news of the cisis over the Adriatic.

That the United States is still hesitating to enter the league of nations appears a certainty, for in the last Anglo-French note, there is no ceding of ground to the president, while in the latter's reply to Prime Ministers Lloyd George and Millerand, he flatly states that he has "no choice but to maintain the position he has all along taken" as regards the settlement of the dispute over the Dalmatian coast.

INCREASE IN SALARIES OF LOCAL OFFICIALS GRANTED

Raise For Fire Department is Tabled Temporarily.

LEASE OPERA HOUSE

Would Put Management Under One Control Permanently.

Ordinnces granting increases in salaries to city officials, excepting the ordinance concerning the fire department, which was tabled pending adjustment of the department to comply with the new two platoon law, were passed at the regular meeting of the City Commission Thursday night.

Ordinances granting increases in salary of City Manager Kenyon Riddle at $3,600 instead of $3.000 annually, drew the only dissenting votes, Commissioners DeHaven and Fisher voting against this ordinance. Ordinance No. 94 raising the salary of the city solicitor from $900 to $1,400 and ordinance No. 95 raising the salary of the city treasurer from $150 to $250 were unanimously passed.

Ordinance 96, fixing the salaries of city firemen, which was also on its second reading, had to be tabled pending changes necessitated by the passage of the two platoon law since the ordinance was drafted. The ordinance provided for a five man department, two to receive $115, two $110, one $80, and two subs at $40 monthly. City Manager Riddle explained that the two platoon system is mandatory and will go into effect in 90 days. Rather than pass the ordinance and then have to amend it, it was tabled for two weeks, when an ordinance will probably be drafted complying with the new law.

Ordinance No. 97 fixing the salaries and providing for an extra man on the police department, passed unanimously. The ordinance fixes the salary, chief $130; assistant $115; motor policemen at $120 and three regular patrolmen at $110. The matter of hours, which has been under dicussion between the department and City Manager Riddle, was settled by an agreement reached between the manager and Chief Canaday, which cuts down the hours from 12 to ten and provides for five men on the department, the same as now. The change will require a shift in the present time schedule.

Ordinance No 98 fixing the salary of the janitor of the city building at $90 was also passed unanimously.

Setback For Dry Enforcement.

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—Enforcement of national prohibition was given a setback in this district when Judge J. Whitaker, in the United States district court, refused to grant an injunction to restrain a local saloonkeeper from "maintaining and conducting a public and common nuisance." At the same time Judge Thompson rebuked the federal prohibition enforcement officers for searching the saloon without a warrant.

RELEASE MAN ARRESTED ON "STILL" CHARGE

Hayes Valentine, colored, of this city, who was arrested by the Sheriff, and charged with violation of the prohibition law recently was released Thursday without bail.

Valentine was released following the hearing given the men before United States Commissioner Frank Howell in Dayton, Thursday morning at ten o'clock. Following the hearing Howell released Valentine without bond on his own recognizance, retaining in custody, however, John Bowman and Leroy McFarland, arrested on similar charges.

In releasing Valentine, Commissioner Howell consulted with Federal Agent Madden. They took the position that Valentine was a married man and had been working, and that it was better to release him on his own recognizance and permit him to work and support his wife, than to keep him confined until the May term of court.

Valentine said he was guilty of having a quantity of corn mash in his possession, at the hearing Thursday morning. He said that his birthday was to be March 17, and that Robert Shoecraft had suggested to him that they manufacture some booze to celebrate his birthday with. He said he had taken the corn mash into his house so that it would not be bothered.

Sheriff Funderburg was present at the hearing, but left before Commissioner Howell had made the decision to release Valentine, who was given his freedom and arrived in this city at five o'clock Thursday evening.

"The Federal authorities cannot expect my support or help after this," said Sheriff Funderburg. "I put in three months in turning up this case, and they release one of the principals right away. I am through with them from now on, unless they mean business in prosecuting the offenders."

The Sheriff said he would cease investigations he had underway at present for the benefit of the federal authorities, because of their action in releasing Valentine.

CAMPAIGN FOR WOOD IS STARTED

Columbus, Feb. 27.—A campaign will be conducted throughout Ohio in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Leonard Wood, both for votes of the electors in the preferential primary contest and for the selection of Wood delegates in every district, Colonel William Cooper Procter declared in a statement issued from Wood headquarters here. The statement declares that the fight in Ohio will be a determined one because it is believed that General Wood is "the choice of the people of the majority of the districts, if not of the entire state," and because a movement is being directed by Harry M. Daugherty to deny the people of the state "a free voice in the selection of the delegates."

Candidates favorable to Wood already have been entered for delegates from Hamilton Franklin counties

SERIOUS PHASE OF RUM REVOLT DISCLOSED AS CITIZENS THREATEN BLOODSHED TO PREVENT ARRESTS

Iron River, Mich., Feb. 27.—A more serious phase of the "Iron County rum revolt" was disclosed today when it was learned that 3.000 citizens of the county, a majority of them miners, were prepared during the invasion of Major A. V. Darymple's prohibition agents to resist by force the arresting without warrants of states Attorney Martin McDonough or other citizens of the county.

According to statements made by citizens, it was planned to hold up the train which was to bear the arrested citizens from the county and take them from the federal agents, with bloodshed if necessary. That the "prohibition expeditionary force" was not menaced on its arrival was said by friends of McDonough to be due to a tour of the country made by him, during which he counselled calmness on the part of all citizens.

Public sentiment here is that the citizenship generally is law abiding and has not broken the prohibition amendment. While many of the residents have large "private stocks" in their cellars, they feel they have just as much right to such possession as have wealthy citizens elsewhere.

This sentiment is to be crystallized today in a public hearing held for the double purpose of "setting Iron county right before the rest of the United States and to convince federal officials that states attorney McDonough was right in his stand against Major Dalrymple. The hearing is to be presided over by United States District Attorney Myron Walker of Grand Rapids; a representative of the department of justice and a representative of Attorney General Groesbeck.

In the meantime the wondering natives, many of whom are of foreign antecedents, cannot understand why such a to-do is being made over the whole situation.

OFFERS PEACE WITH REFORMS TO AMERICA

London, Feb. 27.—The soviet commissary of foreign affairs has dispatched notes to the United States, Japan and Roumania offering them peace with soviet Russia, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow received here. The action of the Lenine government was not unexpected here, as it is known that Lenine and Trotzky have been making strenuous efforts lately to secure recognition by the powers. Just why England and France were not included in the latest offer is a subject of considerable discussion.

Persian revolutionary forces under command of their leader, Kutchukkan, have occupied Resht, near the southern extremity of the Caspian sea, and are driving the British away from that place, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow.

In its proposal Russia pledges establishment of democratic principles in Russia and the calling of a constituent assembly. It promises further to withdraw the decree annulling Russia's foreign debt, restoring 60 per cent of the liability, and also to pay arrears of interest, giving as a guarantee for the fulfillment of its obligations considerable mining concessions of platinum and silver to the Anglo-American syndicate.

In return and in addition to the formal peace treaties, the soviet government would require Great Britain and other countries to abandon all intervention in Russian affairs. It also proposes that the United States allow a credit to Russia conditioned upon considerable concessions in that country.

the Xenia Water Company was present at the meeting and requested that since the water works bonds were not sold, and the city could not comply with the contract to pay the water works at present that a written agreement be drawn up, to protect both parties when the transfer of the property is made, which was agreed upon by the commissioners.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney had a number of ordinances prepared to take care of the new street improvements here this summer, but the question of whether to go through with the paving under the second contract or not, due to labor conditions, was taken under advisement and will be taken up later. It was decided however, to go ahead with the additional sewer work and three ordinances and a resolution were passed on their first reading, making them effective in thirty days.

The ordinances were Ordinance No. 100 to proceed with the sewer work in certain districts, Ordinance No. 101 to issue bonds in the sum of $3,000 to pay the city's share in this sewer work, and Ordinance No. 102 to issue bonds in the sum of $20,000 in anticipation of collection from property holders for the sewer work. The Resolution, No. 103, declared it necessary to construct sewers on West street and Leaman streets, which were left out of the ordinance.

Lease Opera House.

A proposition submitted by City Manager Riddle, to avoid the present confusion of having two managements of the opera house, by leasing the house to the highest bidder, with the proviso that it can be used for city or public use at any time, was left to the discretion of the Manager in working out a scheme to take care of such a lease.

It was pointed out by the manager that the cost of improving the opera house was $935 and that the receipts from the rental of the house this year will amount to $1,488, which more than pays for the work and is an interesting comparison with the $461 taken in last year before the house was improved. The manager pointed out that there was friction between the two managements, because since it did not come under one head, many shows were booked close together. He said that if one management had the house, that the shows could be distributed better, which would make the house more popular with the show companies, insure more bookings, and thus a greater income to the city. The plan of leasing the property to the highest bidder will be worked out by the manager.

Salary Demands.

The question of what to do with an increased demands made by the stationary engineers at the water company pumping stations, was taken up by the manager with the commission, and the matter finally left for adjustment entirely in the manager's hands.

The men are now getting 33 1-2 cents an hour for 12 hours work and in sympathy with the union, demanded 70 cents for eight hours work, finally agreeing upon 60 cents an hour for eight hours. Such a plan would necessitate two new men, and raise the price of the water $11 a million gallons. The Manager offered the men $120 a month for 8 hours or $140 for 12 hours work, which is comparative with salaries paid in other cities.

The repairs of bad places in the brick streets of the city was brought up and Mr. Riddle said that at a conference with officials of the D. & X. Traction company, that it was agreed that the company should fix the streets between the tracks, which has already been started.

The commission recessed until noon March 1, when bids for the sale of $23,000 worth of sewer bonds will be opened.

FRENCH CONTINUE TO LIVE IN STEEL HOUSES GERMANS BUILT

While the Germans were in France they built semi-permanent abodes for their troops. When the allied side drove the foe back the French people, made homeless by the guns of the Germans, took possession of these odd houses. They proved fairly comfortable when properly fitted out and thousands of French families are still living in them. They are made of heavy steel sheets.

OFFERS PEACE WITH REFORMS TO AMERICA

London, Feb. 27.—The soviet commissary of foreign affairs has dispatched notes to the United States, Japan and Roumania offering them peace with soviet Russia, according to a wireless dispatch from Moscow received here. The action of the Lenine government was not unexpected here, as it is known that Lenine and Trotzky have been making strenuous efforts lately to secure recognition by the powers. Just why England and France were not included in the latest offer is a subject of considerable discussion.

Persian revolutionary forces under command of their leader, Kutchukkan, have occupied Resht, near the southern extremity of the Caspian sea, and are driving the British away from that place, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Moscow.

In its proposal Russia pledges establishment of democratic principles in Russia and the calling of a constituent assembly. It promises further to withdraw the decree annulling Russia's foreign debt, restoring 60 per cent of the liability, and also to pay arrears of interest, giving as a guarantee for the fulfillment of its obligations considerable mining concessions of platinum and silver to the Anglo-American syndicate.

In return and in addition to the formal peace treaties, the soviet government would require Great Britain and other countries to abandon all intervention in Russian affairs. It also proposes that the United States allow a credit to Russia conditioned upon considerable concessions in that country.

the Xenia Water Company was present at the meeting and requested that since the water works bonds were not sold, and the city could not comply with the contract to pay the water works at present that a written agreement be drawn up, to protect both parties when the transfer of the property is made, which was agreed upon by the commissioners.

City Solicitor J. A. Finney had a number of ordinances prepared to take care of the new street improvements here this summer, but the question of whether to go through with the paving under the second contract or not, due to labor conditions, was taken under advisement and will be taken up later. It was decided however, to go ahead with the additional sewer work and three ordinances and a resolution were passed on their first reading, making them effective in thirty days.

The ordinances were Ordinance No. 100 to proceed with the sewer work in certain districts, Ordinance No. 101 to issue bonds in the sum of $3.000 to pay the city's share in this sewer work, and Ordinance No. 102 to issue bonds in the sum of $20,000 in anticipation of collection from property holders for the sewer work. The Resolution, No. 103, declared it necessary to construct sewers on West street and Leaman streets, which were left out of the ordinance.

Lease Opera House.

A proposition submitted by City Manager Riddle, to avoid the present confusion of having two managements of the opera house, by leasing the house to the highest bidder, with the proviso that it can be used for city or public use at any time, was left to the discretion of the Manager in working out a scheme to take care of such a lease.

It was pointed out by the manager that the cost of improving the opera house was $935 and that the receipts from the rental of the house this year will amount to $1,488, which more than pays for the work and is an interesting comparison with the $461 taken in last year before the house was improved. The manager pointed out that there was friction between the two managements, because since it did not come under one head, many shows were booked close together. He said that if one management had the house, that the shows could be distributed better, which would make the house more popular with the show companies, insure more bookings, and thus a greater income to the city. The plan of leasing the property to the highest bidder will be worked out by the manager.

Salary Demands.

The question of what to do with an increased demands made by the stationary engineers at the water company pumping stations, was taken up by the manager with the commission, and the matter finally left for adjustment entirely in the manager's hands.

The men are now getting 33 1-2 cents an hour for 12 hours work and in sympathy with the union, demanded 70 cents for eight hours work, finally agreeing upon 60 cents an hour for eight hours. Such a plan would necessitate two new men, and raise the price of the water $11 a million gallons. The Manager offered the men $120 a month for 8 hours or $140 for 12 hours work, which is comparative with salaries paid in other cities.

The repairs of bad places in the brick streets of the city was brought up and Mr. Riddle said that at a conference with officials of the D. & X. Traction company, that it was agreed that the company should fix the streets between the tracks, which has already been started.

The commission recessed until noon March 1, when bids for the sale of $23,000 worth of sewer bonds will be opened.

FRENCH CONTINUE TO LIVE IN STEEL HOUSES GERMANS BUILT

While the Germans were in France they built semi-permanent abodes for their troops. When the allied side drove the foe back the French people, made homeless by the guns of the Germans, took possession of these odd houses. They proved fairly comfortable when properly fitted out and thousands of French families are still living in them. They are made of heavy steel sheets.

FRIENDS AFRAID THE END WAS NEAR

Even Rustling of Newspaper Would Upset Mrs. Adkins She Says.

"My friends did not expect me to live but a short while and I was beginning to feel that way myself, but since I have taken Tanlac I am as strong and healthy as I ever was in my life," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. Ruth I. Adkins of Earsol Station Westmoreland, W. Va.

"It was about a year ago that I had a bad spell of pneumonia," continued Mrs. Adkins, "and it left me so weak that after I got up I could not even sweep the floor. I was so nervous that any noise, like a broom falling or the rustling of a newspaper, would completely upset me, and I was so restless that I could never sleep well. Why some nights I would get no more than one or two hours' sleep. I had a poor appetite, and when I did manage to force down something I could not digest it. I was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck and was beginning to feel that my end was nearing, for I had taken so many medicines without benefit that I had beome discouraged and despondent.

"One day I noticed about Tanlac in the paper and I decided to try it. That day proved to be a happy day in my life, because it marked a turn in my condition and I began steadily to improve. Today I am on my fourth bottle of Tanlac and the change that has come over me is nothing short of remarkable, for I have been built up so wonderfully that I am feeling like a new woman. My nerves are as steady as a clock and I am sleeping every night like a child. "A stitch in time saves nine," and is surely true this time of year when the blood is thin and icy winds chill you to the bone. The blood must be enriched and thick to withstand the cold. Your digestion must be improved to take care of the heavier meats, soups, hot cakes and pastries of winter. The lungs should be strengthened to throw off coughs, colds, bronchial, catarrhal and asthmatic troubles, which are always worst this time of year. People with weak lungs fall easy victims to germs, pneumonia, fevers and kindred troubles.

WHAT DRUGGISTS SAY

Nine out of ten in the city are pale, thin blooded, headachy and rundown at this season. Lack of exercise, fresh air, correct living—irregular hours, lost sleep, fancy foods and modern day excesses and strain wear them out—women and men—rich and poor.

Such people have no excuse for not taking a tonic and building themselves up. You can get a modern, much more powerful, effective and economical tonic than in days of old. A couple bottles of Earle's Hypo-Cod is usually sufficient for a grown person and more than enough for a child. It contains the very finest ingredients and just what is needed, and it is so pleasant to taste even the kiddies love it. The chemist of today has taken out that fishy, oily nauseating taste from cod liver oil. You need not take iron through a tube to enrich the blood like they did in olden times for fear of blacking teeth. You get all the blood making, strength creating, properties and the name of the nationally known Earle Chemical Co., Wheeling, W. Va., on each bottle is a guarantee of quality. See formula on each bottle.

Not one in five have anything the matter with them of a serious nature—they are simply rundown, just like after sickness and need building up. So-called kidney, blood, liver, bladder, stomach and nerve disorders are traceable to this same thing.

Nature throws off germs and colds, coughs and diseases of all kinds like water off a duck's back when a person is in perfect health. Nature can prevent diseases that all the gargles, sprays and science in the world cannot prevent.

TELLS WHAT TO DO

Today as a result of the awakening being brought about through advertising many thousands of people are fortifying their system—building themselves up—increasing their reserve vitality and nerve force, at this season of the year when variable weather finds us easiest victim.

Why should we or our children always be catching colds when kids in the olden days waded thru snowdrifts and got their feet wet every day and grew fat, rosy—lived to ripe old age? Today conditions are a little different but the chemist has combined with the cod liver oil the other elements we need today on account of changed living, working and eating habits. Just come down to the drug store and get a couple bottles of this latest, most powerful and effective preparation. Doctors, druggists, chemists, professors, nurses and well known authorities endorse the formula upon each bottle. Go through this winter full of "pep" and free of sickness, coughs and colds by taking Hypo-Cod now. Read what users say on the right.

OLD FASHIONED COD LIVER OIL A NASTY DOSE

New Tonic Stronger And Nicer—Has Medicinal Value Too.

BUILDS A PERSON UP FOR THE WINTER

Through the chemist's discovery of a way to extract the medicinal values from Cod Liver Oil without getting any of that nasty, fishy, nauseating taste, you can now come down to the store and get pure cod liver oil extract, combined into a much more powerful preparation with Malt, Iron, Wine, Wild Cherry Bark and Syrup of Hypophosphites. These added elements meet our modern changed conditions of eating, sleeping and working and it does away with that bitter, oily taste so objectionable to people with weak stomachs.

This preparation is made of finest ingredients and how quickly it drives out fall and winter troubles and puts a person back on their feet is told by Mrs. Harry Richard whose address is given below. She said:

"I suffered with bronchial trouble. A year ago I had the "Flu" and it left me with a cough so bad I couldn't sleep, became all run down and nervous. I could hardly breathe when lying down and had to be all propped up with pillows. My digestion was poor too and I was so weak I could hardly lift a hand to my work, but since I took Hypo-Cod my cough left, I sleep like a log and they have a hard time getting me up mornings I sleep so sound. I am gaining flesh and strength and my appetite and digestion are both so good I enjoy and relish my meals so I think it is worth praising and gladly recommend it. I used just one bottle," continued Mrs. Richard, 46 Cortello St., Dayton, O. Read what other users say about Earle's Hypo-Cod. Then come down or send to the store for a bottle or two tonight.

MADE DAUGHTER ROBUST, STRONG AND WELL AGAIN

Was Weak, Nervous And Stuffed Up With Cold Following Illness.

RESTLESS AT NIGHT NEVER SLEPT WELL

"My daughter, following a spell of sickness, couldn't regain her lost strength. She just dragged around. Could not sleep nights. Never had any appetite, and had grown so thin and weak it worried me. She was all stuffed up with a cold that clung to her like death. A druggist told her to take Earle's Hypo-Cod, and I'm glad she did because it built her right up," declared Mrs. L. Hart, 7005 Lawn Ave., N. W., Cleveland, Ohio.

"She began to regain her strength right from the start. It wasn't but a few days before her old appetite returned and the catarrhal condition and cough disappeared. She began to sleep nice nights and her nerves quieted down until now she looks and says she feels heaps better. The improvement was pronounced and she gained weight rapidly. I think Earle's Hypo-Cod is grand and recommend it as a tonic and builder," continued Mrs. Hart.

BEST TONIC I EVER SAW

My Mother, Aged 79, Is Strong and Well—Helped Me Too.

BUILDS UP OLD FOLKS QUICKLY

"I think the chemists have struck upon the right track with Hypo-Cod and it is by all odds the best tonic I ever saw," declared Mr. Chas. Crolins, a prominent retired gentleman of Detroit, Mich.

"I was in a general run down condition myself. Nerves were jumpy and weak and made it hard for me to rest well nights. I felt tired and dopey during the day and seldom ever had any appetite. I called in a specialist but received no benefit so on seeing a statement of a man I knew praising Hypo-Cod, I bought a bottle and I'm feeling fine now. I sleep good nights. I began sleeping before first bottle was gone. Feel vigorous and energetic now and eating like a boy. My mother, aged 79, suffered with very bad nervous spells. Couldn't sleep and was like myself—run down and always feeling tired, but since she has taken this dandy tonic she says she feels fine and looks it, too. It helps the old folks alright, and you can publish my statement and let's hope it makes all the old folks younger and free of sickness this winter," continued Mr. Crolins, 43 Warren Ave., Detroit, Mich.

Elderly people need a very powerful tonic but it must not upset a weak stomach or have any reaction. That is why Earle's Hypo-Cod is such a triumph in modern medicine. It does its work so much quicker and effectively. You will be delighted. Send down to the store for a couple bottles.

One of the biggest and best known men in Pharmaceutical circles asserted recently that Earle's Hypo-Cod was the most powerful, effective, and palatable reconstructive, alterative, digestive, nutritive tonic made. The expense of the process and concentration of medicinal elements in it made it far superior to anything in the old days. (His name on request). HE TELLS WHY COLD MAKES YOU WEAK, PALE, IRRITABLE

SPLENDID TREATMENT FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

The food you digest does no good until after it comes from the stomach in a grayish state and has passed through the lungs, whereupon coming in contact with the air you breathe it changes to a rich, vigorous, life-giving red. In other words, there is no vitality, nourishment or vigor in food until your lungs have oxidized it.

If your lungs are weakened or congested by a cough, cold, fever or other causes, the food you eat does little good, no matter how well digested, for it isn't properly oxidized. It passes out into the body in a partially oxidized, sluggish, thin state. No wonder you become pale, have no life or energy and shiver with the cold one minute and are hot and feverish the next.

How to quickly relieve such a condition, strengthen the lungs, enrich the blood quickly and put yourself back on your feet is told by Mrs. Almeda Suttles, of Columbus, Ohio. She said:

"I had a very bad cold. Had grown nervous and would lay awake for hours at a time. My appetite vanished and I felt lifeless and week. My daughter, Mrs. Harry Gates, said all I had to do was get a bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod. It would not only relieve the cold, but would build me up so I couldn't catch any more, and she was right. I asked the druggist and he said the same thing, so I bought it, and my sakes alive—anybody who bothers with a cold or cough is foolish, for Hypo-Cod is so nice to take and does the work so quick ya never mind it at all.

"Hypo-Cod cured my cold and I sleep all night through without waking up once. I can eat anything I want to and have such a fine appetite and am feeling so well I recommend Hypo-Cod. I've tried so many medicines in years past and Hypo-Cod is such a revelation of what a real medicine will do that I hope everybody uses it from now on," continued Mrs. Suttles, 155 Hayden Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

Cough syrups, pills and temporary remedies designed only to sooth should be abandoned in favor of a permanent treatment as suggested above. Don't just stop the cough and cold. Fortify your system against a recurrence this winter. Build yourself up. Read what users say about Hypo-Cod in testimonial below.

Nutritive Values of This Tonic Endorsed by Authorities.

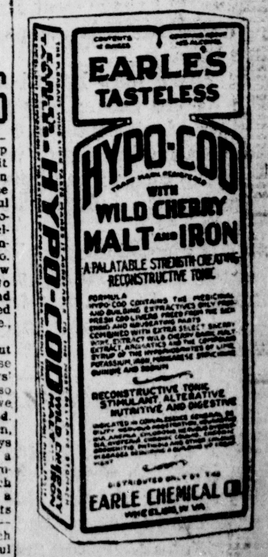

HYPO-COD MAKES HEALTHY KIDDIES

Statistics indicate that about half the children going to school are undernourished, weak, thin, pale and in this condition their disease resisting vitality is so weak they are apt to fall victim to any contagious disease.

Fast growing, pale, frail children can be built up and strengthened very readily, however, according to nationally known authorities who assert a combination of Cod Liver Oil, extract Malt, Iron, Wine, Cherry Bark and Syrup of Hypophosphites is excellent and that in Earle's Hypo-Cod you get these elements so nicely blended that children love its pleasant taste. Just glance at what Mrs. Ray Mellon, of Akron, Ohio, says regarding it:

"I was in a rundown condition myself and all four of my children were in a weak, pale, delicate condition some little time ago. I was nervous and had only a very poor appetite. Nights I couldn't sleep well, but I took Hypo-Cod and built myself up so quick I decided to give it to all four of the children and I wish you could see those four rosy cheeked, healthy, cheerful children of mine since they took Hypo-Cod. It is simply splendid. I'm feeling like my old self and enjoy a wonderful appetite just like the babies do. It did wonders in our home and know it will help anyone to the road to health if they will take my advice and use Hypo-Cod in the family," declared Mrs. Ray Mellon, 1042 East Ave., Akron, Ohio.

Nervous, fretful mothers, wornout with the care of children and a house full of worries often need a few days' building up and nothing is quite so nice to take, so prompt and effective as the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod. Fretful, cross and irritable children, thin, undernourished and always catching cold, crying and raising a hubbub need a few doses taken regularly for a few days to help them catch up when growing so fast.—Just a couple days bring gratifying results mothers will find—it is nice tasting—Doctors endorse the formula which appears on each bottle and careful mothers everywhere are using it to keep the kiddies well and strong—drive out the colds and increase the little folks' disease resisting vitality in fall and wintry weather.

Note—We prepay large bottle of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod anywhere upon receipt of price, $1.26, plus 6c war tax. Get a bottle at the store today or have it sent out to you.

FRIENDS AFRAID THE END WAS NEAR

Even Rustling of Newspaper Would Upset Mrs. Adkins She Says.

"My friends did not expect me to live but a short while and I was beginning to feel that way myself, but since I have taken Tanlac I am as strong and healthy as I ever was in my life," was the remarkable statement made a few days ago by Mrs. Ruth I. Adkins of Earsol Station Westmoreland, W. Va.

"It was about a year ago that I had a bad spell of pneumonia," continued Mrs. Adkins, "and it left me so weak that after I got up I could not even sweep the floor. I was so nervous that any noise, like a broom falling or the rustling of a newspaper, would completely upset me, and I was so restless that I could never sleep well. Why some nights I would get no more than one or two hours' sleep. I had a poor appetite, and when I did manage to force down something I could not digest it. I was almost a complete nervous and physical wreck and was beginning to feel that my end was nearing, for I had taken so many medicines without benefit that I had beome discouraged and despondent.

"One day I noticed about Tanlac in the paper and I decided to try it. That day proved to be a happy day in my life, because it marked a turn in my condition and I began steadily to improve. Today I am on my fourth bottle of Tanlac and the change that has come over me is nothing short of remarkable, for I have been built up so wonderfully that I am feeling like a new woman. My nerves are as steady as a clock and I am sleeping every night like a child. My appetite has returned and I can digest every thing I eat without the least trouble Tanlac has given me new life and strength and I am in as good health as I ever was.

SPLENDID TREATMENT FOR CHRONIC COUGHS

The food you digest does no good until after it comes from the stomach in a grayish state and has passed through the lungs, whereupon coming in contact with the air you breathe it changes to a rich, vigorous, life-giving red. In other words, there is no vitality, nourishment or vigor in food until your lungs have oxidized it.

If your lungs are weakened or congested by a cough, cold, fever or other causes, the food you eat does little good, no matter how well digested, for it isn't properly oxidized. It passes out into the body in a partially oxidized, sluggish, thin state. No wonder you become pale, have no life or energy and shiver with the cold one minute and are hot and feverish the next.

How to quickly relieve such a condition, strengthen the lungs, enrich the blood quickly and put yourself back on your feet is told by Mrs. Almeda Suttles, of Columbus, Ohio. She said:

"I had a very bad cold. Had grown nervous and would lay awake for hours at a time. My appetite vanished and I felt lifeless and week. My daughter, Mrs. Harry Gates, said all I had to do was get a bottle of Earle's Hypo-Cod. It would not only relieve the cold, but would build me up so I couldn't catch any more, and she was right. I asked the druggist and he said the same thing, so I bought it, and my sales alive—anybody who bothers with a cold or cough is foolish, for Hypo-Cod is so nice to take and does the work so quick yu never mind it at all.

"Hypo-Cod cured my cold and I sleep all night through without waking up once. I can eat anything I want to and have such a fine appetite and am feeling so well I recommend Hypo-Cod. I've tried so many medicines in years past, and Hypo-Cod is such a revelation of what a real medicine will do that I hope everybody uses it from now on," continued Mrs. Suttles, 155 Hayden Ave., Columbus, Ohio.

Cough syrups, pills and temporary remedies designed only to sooth should be abandoned in favor of a permanent treatment as suggested above. Don't just stop the cough and cold. Fortify your system against a recurrence this winter. Build yourself up. Read what users say about Hypo-Cod in testimonial below.

Nutritive Values of This Tonic Endorsed by Authorities.

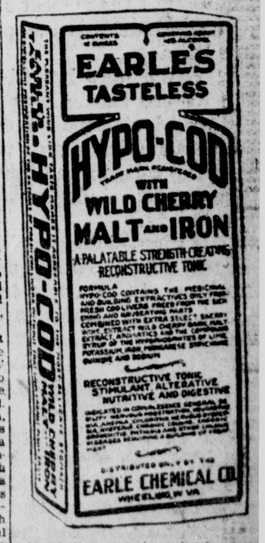

HYPO-COD MAKES HEALTHY KIDDIES

Statistics indicate that about half the children going to school are undernourished, weak, thin, pale and in this condition their disease resisting vitality is so weak they are apt to fall victim to any contagious disease.

Fast growing, pale, frail children can be built up and strengthened very readily, however, according to nationally known authorities who assert a combination of Cod Liver Oil, extract Malt, Iron, Wine, Cherry Bark and Syrup of Hypophosphites is excellent and that in Earle's Hypo-Cod you get these elements so nicely blended that children love its pleasant taste. Just ounce at what Mrs. Ray Mellon, of Akron, Ohio, says regarding it:

"I was in a rundown condition myself and all four of my children were in a weak, pale, delicate condition some little time ago. I was nervous and had only a very poor appetite. Nights I couldn't sleep well, but I took Hypo-Cod and built myself up so quick I decided to give it to all four of the children and I wish you could see those four rosy cheeked, healthy, cheerful children of mine since they took Hypo-Cod. It is simply splendid. I'm feeling like my old self and enjoy a wonderful appetite just like the babies do. It did wonders in our home and know it will help anyone to the road to health if they will take my advice and use Hypo-Cod in the family," declared Mrs. Ray Mellon, 1042 East Ave., Akron, Ohio.

Nervous, fretful mothers, wornout with the care of children and a house full of worries often need a few days' building up and nothing is quite so nice to take, so prompt and effective as the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod. Fretful, cross and irritable children, thin, undernourished and always catching cold, crying and raising a hubbub need a few doses taken regularly for a few days to help them catch up when growing so fast.—Just a couple days bring gratifying results mothers will find—It is nice tasting—Doctors endorse the formula which appears on each bottle and careful mothers everywhere are using it to keep the kiddies well and strong—drive out the colds and increase the little folks' disease resisting vitality in fall and wintry weather.

Note—We prepay large bottle of the genuine Earle's Hypo-Cod anywhere upon receipt of price, $1.26, plus 6c war tax. Get a bottle at the store today or have it sent out to you.

"HEADS I WIN, TAILS YOU LOSE," THE UNIVERSAL NATIONAL HABIT.

The American Government, when it mixed for the first time in Old World statecraft, found itself up against the problem which has right along perplexed and foiled the best spirits among the constructive statesmen of Europe; the impossibility of following at all times the shining counsels of perfection. This is bitterly disappointing to the little experienced idealists of a triumphant young people, conscious of its immense strength and impatient with the prohibitives of the past.

Shantung was a confessed compromise. Some of the more far-reaching reparation and punishment provisions of the German treaty failed to command our moral support, but received the signatures of our representatives. We compromised freely and frequently in Paris, though the President seems to have lost the art since his return to Washington.

But all this is nothing new. The diplomatic history of Europe is a network of compromises with the undesirable, often with the wicked, the despotic, the exploitive and the frankly plundering. But we must not imagine that there have not been noble aspirations in Europe, that men of high moral standards have not tried to do much better, that there have been no preachers of idealism before Wilson.

It will be a serious mistake for the more optimistic and forward-looking souls in America to imagine that they are the first crusaders to find that they must compromise with the Infidel if they are to win any progress or save anything from the wreck. The slow and costly advance of human emancipation is disfigured with the ugly memories of all too many such compromises. Every group of "reformers" is limited to doing what it can. It is easy to sit down in a calm and sheltered library and mark out an ideal settlement of certain vexed questions—it is easy to say, as does Henry Morgenthau, that we must pledge ourselves to "do justice to the small peoples whom the United States went to war to support and defend." We are all in favor of that doctrine. But, unfortunately, "small peoples" are usually also weak peoples; and when their interests clash with those of strong peoples, then we must either get the consent of the clashing strong peoples to the recognition of this "justice" or we must stand ready ourselves to apply the necessary police coercion.

To police the world is beyond, far beyond, the strength of any one nation, including our own. The League of Nations seemed to some of us to offer a plan whereby the strength of at least a commanding company of strong and liberty-loving nations could be concentrated on this colossal and yet supremely necessary task. But that could only be done by common consent and constant and hearty co-operation. Yet we did not get enough "common consent" to create a very vigorous League in Paris, and we cannot now get the consent of our own politicians to put into action the League we did get. So the policing of the world, just when it most needs it, after the disrupting and lawless effects of war, has again become a matter for haphazard and mutually suspicious hand-to-mouth bargaining.

ENGLAND "ON HER FEET" AGAIN.

The much-argued question of British loans seems to have been finally disposed of by the explicit statement from the British embassy, declaring, as has been declared more than once in the British parliament that "it is entirely contrary to the policy of the British treasury to incur fresh indebtedness in the United States."

Great Britain has borrowed money in the United States since last June. There have doubtless been private loans, made in the normal course of business, but none in which either government was concerned. British securities are on sale, of course, in the American bond market, but nobody is under any obligation to buy them.

In this connection there seems to have been an unnecessary amount of confusion resulting from the British request for the co-operation of the United States in further measures for the relief and reconstruction of the most stricken parts of Europe. It was in response to this appeal that Secretary Glass asked credit of $150,000,000, which the House ways and means committee has cut to $80,000,000. The general impression in this country has been that the United States was expected to carry the sole burden of such relief. The British government explains that not only does this not involve any British borrowing from the United States, but that Great Britain herself is advancing a large amount of credit for this co-operative work, and several other countries are helping.

There may have been a feeling abroad some time ago that the United States was an "easy mark" on whom all the rest of the world, especially our allied friends, might draw ad libitum. If so, that feeling seems to have disappeared. The clamor for cash is dying out, to the benefit of everybody concerned, allaying the resentment of Americans and promoting the self-respect of Europeans.

It is particularly pleasing to find that Great Britain now finds herself able to stand on her own feet, and takes a proper pride in doing so. Such a stand promotes better relations between the two countries that necessarily have to play their part in international affairs.

LOOKS TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE.

A new artificial gas possessing more heat units than natural gas has been developed through experiments by W. E. Elliott, a gas expert, who has had charge of important work for the large steel companies of the Youngstown and Pittsburgh districts. Mainly, he says, the gas is produced from all the byproducts arising from the consumption of coal. An analysis of the process made recently by the Carnegie Institute of Technology at Pittsburgh showed, it is announced, that 50,000 feet of gas could be produced from a ton of coal and that this gas produced 50 per cent more heat than natural gas.

The discoverer of this secret process says the greater heat units result from the introduction of five parts more of air than in natural gas.

He estimates the cost of quantity production at fifteen cents for each thousand feet, and says he has produced 57,000 feet of gas from a ton of slack coal, where ordinarily but 14,000 feet has been the possible production.

The inventor has been granted patent rights for the process, and his work is being studied by some of the leading gas authorities of the country.

CHATTER

A young revivalist who had been exhorting a meeting for over two hours without perceptible effect, was feeling discouraged, when an old miner interrupted him.

"Say, brother, I'd like to ask a question."

The enthusiastic revivalist smiled with pleasure.

"Thank you, my man, for your interest!" he replied. "I shall be more than glad to set you right on any point. Your desire for enlightenment is a good sign which I am very, very glad to see. Now, what is it you want to know?"

"Can I smoke?" asked the miner.

The amateur dramatic society had spent many anxious nights in practice and rehearsal, and at length the great evening that was to show their powers arrived. One of the amateurs had found it inconvenient to attend, and his place was taken by an understudy. But, as he was allotted a part with only one sentence, no hitch was anticipated. He was the headsman.

Arrayed in all the glory of black tights and mask, he strode onto the stage, and folding his arms, exclaimed:

"My lord, my lord! I have beheaded the maid!"

"Oh, you have, have you?" returned the local butcher, who was taking the part of the cruel king. "Well, then allow me to tell you that you've spoiled the blessed show. You've done it two acts too soon."

"We'd better furbish up the gymnasium of our athletic club."

"Why?"

"With the bar closed the members will have to do something to kill time."

COURT IS FACED BY PROBLEM IN I. W. W. TRIAL

Montesano, Wash., Feb. 27.—With the ultimatum of the attorney for the defense of theten alleged I. W. W. charged with the Centralia murders that either the troops or he must leave the city today, the court is faced with a problem.

Judge John M. Wilson, it is expected, will today order that the troops be withdrawn. He has already expressed himself as averse to the presence of the troops in the city. Judge Wilson said: "there has not been the slightest apparent necessity for the soldiers There may be information showing a need for the soldiers which I do not possess and I should like to have all of it."

RADICALS ARRESTED IN CLEVELAND

Cleveland, O., Feb. 27.—Ten alleged radicals were arrested and several wagon loads of radical literature ocnfiscated in a raid conducted by federal agents and police here early this morning. Additional arrests are in prospect, according to Bliss Morton, special agent of the department of justice.

The suspects were aroused from the beds and taken to the county jail. No specific charge has been lodged, all being accused generally of "violating United States laws."

TURKEY IN CHAOS

Lndon, Feb. 25.—"If Lord Robert Cecil succeeds in his campaign to drive the Turks out of Constantinople, it is almost certain to induce the Turkish army to side with the insurgents and then nothing can save the Turkish territory from chaos and a welter of bloodshed," said Lieut. Colonel Walter Guinness, M. P., in the "Evening Standard" today.

MOTORAIDS

The first and last rule or the motorist who would get the most out of his tires, is to keep them properly inflated. There are no definite rules overing the inflation of tires. When the tires are uninflated, and are driven in this condition, instead of the resilent action and even distribution of the load, they are cramped between the road and the rim.

Anyone who is at all familiar with the constuction of tires know that they are built up from a carcass composed of the finest cotton fabric, impragnated and coated with rubber, to which a heavy tread is vulcanized.

They are built so they will give resiliency when fully inflated, but when they are run almost flat there is a decided breaking strain thrown upon the faric. It has a similar effect, when the tires are in play, to a wire being constantly bent back, forth in one place. The wire finally breaks, and, likewise, the fabric composing the foundation of the tire is destroyed and the tire becomes worthless. Overinflation is another evil. The proper inflation is the number of pounds pressure that your dealer advises.

WIFE OF ACCUSED FRENCH PREMIER SAYS CHARGE FALSE

Paris, Feb. 27.—In the first interview she has given out since her husband was brought to trial on the charge of having treasonable dealings with the enemy in wartime, Mme. Caillaux, wife of former Premier Joseph Caillaux, declared today that she is certain her husband will be acquitted.

Mme. Caillaux, who did not hesitate to kill Gaston Calmette, editor of La-Figaro, when the editor began a political attack against her husband in 1914, is providing an indefatigable aid to the defense.

"I never have believed for an instant that my husband would be found guilty," she declared. "The government has not proved a single point. The accusations are not direct charges against him, but merely innuendo.

"But I am alarmed for my husband's health. He is using up all his energy in defending himself. I fear that he will not be able to bear the continued strain if the trial lasts as long as they say it will.

"I have been giving all my time to my husband's defense and I feel certain that he will not be convicted."

Mme. Caillcaux received the correspondent in the salon of her apartment in the Place Monceau quarter, where President Wilson resided on his first visit to Paris during the peace conference. She is a beautiful, statuesque woman of proud hearing. As she talked half a dozen pekinese dogs barked about the hall of the apartment. One of them was wrapped in bandages as though it had been sick or injured.

Mme. Caillaux attempted to pick it up as she talked, but the pet fled down the hall.

"It is a terrible mental strain," she said. "I hope for the best, but I fear his health will be ruined."

But Mrs. Banfer Switched To Nerv-Worth and Quickly Found Relief

Every reader in whose system lie ailments which came in the wake of influenza should take careful notice of the following remarkable signed statement recently made at Uniontown's Nerv-Worth drug store. In the source and character Mrs. Banfer's report is a most comforting message to fellow sufferers:

Wade H. Guyton—I had a terrible case of the "flu" which left me in a very nervous and run-down condition. I was in the hands of a doctor but did not seem to respond to his treatment. I would feel a sickness in my stomach after eating. My sleep was disturbed and I did not get rest or gain strength.

I purchased a bottle of Nerv-Worth from you and took it as directed and can truthfully say that I am no longer nervous. No sickness after eating and I sleep soundly all night and have regained my health and strength. I recommend Nerv-Worth to all.

The body was cremated, and the ashes will later be brought to Xenia.

Heart and Home Problems

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like your advice concerning my gentleman friend, who thinks the world of me, but still I do not understand him.

He was to come up to see me one evening or in the afternoon. My sister who is fifteen years old went downtown to get tickets for the evening show for herself and some friends. She met him and talked to him for a while. Then she said she was cold and would go. He then asked her to go to the show with him.

I have been sick for quite a while, but not sick enough to be in bed. He knew it, because I did not work. He came in the evening and acted very queer. I asked him what the matter was and he said it was nothing. He had told my sister not to tell.

We were all talking and she thoughtlessly mentioned going to the show with him. My friend did not know what to say and turned all colors. I took it good naturedly, but it hurt me.

Do you think it was right for him to do this? I did not care because he took her to the show, but to think he told her not to tell. He has asked me to be his wife and spoken to my father concerning the matter. Would you treat him the same?

BLUE EYES.

I agree with you that it was all right for the young man to take your sister to the show, but wrong for him to try to deceive you. He probably thought you would be hurt if you knew and he wanted to save your feelings. This of course was the wrong attitude, because he should do nothing which would make it necessary for him to deceive. Tell him that there cannot be love without trust and he must not do such a thing again. This time try to forget the incident.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years of age. I loved a man twenty-nine years old when I was eighteen, and at that time my people objected on account of my youth. He went away to France and the consequence is we have drifted apart.

I always have loved him and find myself continually thinking of and comparing him with my new friends. They always fall short and this almost breaks my heart. I received just a friendly letter from him not long ago, telling me of his engagement. I answered, wishing him happiness.

I have had proposals lately and find I love neither and at the present am engaged to a man whom I have always known. He is still in college and we are not to marry until he has a start in life. He tells me he loves me dearly, but I only love him as a brotner.

Would you marry the one I am engaged to or would you wait and see if there is another who loved you as the first one you loved with all your soul?

I have regretted one thousand times that I did not marry the one I si cerely love and have decided that my parents shall never again influence me as to the one I shall marry.

DEW DROP.

Break your engagement now and wait for a real love. It is not honorable to remain engaged while you wait for another love to appear. You are very young and will surely find happiness later. I believe that sometime you will thank your parents with all your heart for helping to keep you free so that you could marry the "only" man. Keep your faith that he is coming, and be loyal to him while you wait. An engagement to a man you do not love is unworthy of you.

HOW TO USE VICK'S VAPORUB TO PREVENT FLU

FLU GERMS ARE BREATHED IN. INFLAMED AIR PASSAGES MAKE IDEAL BREEDING GROUNDS FOR THESE GERMS.

KEEP AIR PASSAGES OPEN

Melt a Little Vick's VapoRub in a Spoon Night and Morning and Inhale Vapors—Also Apply Up the Nostrils Several Times a Day, Especially Just Before Being Exposed to Crowds.

Flu This Year is Milder

While we know very little more about the flu now than we did last year—the germ itself has never been positively identified—still most authorities agree that the flu germs are breathed in. If the system is in good shape and the membrane or lining of the air passages is in healthy condition—these germs are thrown off.

A good plan is to melt a little Vick's VapoRub in a spoon night and morning, and inhale the vapors, also apply a little up the nostrils several times a day, especially just before being exposed to crowds.

Treat All Colds Promptly

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and make them real breeding grounds for germs. Prompt use of Vick's VapoRub aids in preventing colds. For head colds, sore throat or hoarseness, rub Vick's well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. For deep chest colds, severe sore throat or bronchitis, hot wet towels should first be applied to the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vick's should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red—spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck, so the vapors, released by the body heat, may be freely inhaled.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the lungs and air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus aiding to relieve the congestion within.

Use of External Treatment for Colds Increasing

Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist who found how to combine in salve form, the standard time tested remedies, Camphor — Menthol—Eucalyptus—Thyme, etc—so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vick's is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and therefore can be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the steadily increasing number of people who have been converted to the use of this "outside" treatment.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vicks has grown—year by year—state by state—until now more than 17 million jars are used annually. And this is spite of the fact that Vicks is a new form of treatment to many folks in the North and West. Vicks can be had at all druggists in three sizes 30c, 60c or $1.20.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE SATURDAY

If you are in love, if you are married, if you are divorced, or if you never intend to marry, you should see "The Revelations of a Wife," which will play at the Opera House Saturday, matinee and night, is the advice of many.

The play is from the story of the same name, which ran in serial form in a number of newspapers. It is staged with an exceptionally strong cast and the plot is of a mysterious order, which seems to be the type of the legitimate that is proving most popular at this time.

Victory Manager After Xenia Interests

J. E. Pedelle, manager of the New Victory theater, who is popularizing his theater with Xenia patrons by making every effort to care for mail and phone orders for reservations, has another pleasant booking this week in "Roly Boly Eyes."

The offering is in the judgment of Xenia fans the best they have seen this season. The production features that comedy King, Eddie Leonard, who is a side splitting scream, and it also boasts an unusual plot, with plenty of sparkling music and splendid dancing.

O'BRIEN PLAYERS HERE MARCH 9TH

"The Real Thing After All," the production to be presented March 9th, by the O'Brien Players of Dayton is drawing considerable attention.

The play is being brought here by Central High School to provide funds for various school and educational purposes. The money derived will be used to bring several noted speakers to the local school to talk at assemblies, part of the proceeds will be given to the Central Hi Review, the weekly publication of the school, and the rest will be used to make up the deficit in the athletic association treasury.

PURCHASE LOTS IN ADDITION TO THE CITY

Both men secured their deeds this week. Mr. Long purchased lot number two, in Block No. 1, which lies on Church street, one lot east from the corner of Detroit and Church. Mr. Buell purchased lot number three in the same block, next to that secured by Mr. Long, price of each lot $2,000.

C. A. Weaver and J. A. Daily have also purchased lots in the addition, Mr. Weaver securing number nine in block No. 1, and Mr. Daly number ten in the same block. The purchase price was $1,800. The lots face east on Corwin road.

While these represent the only completed sales so far, F. W. Dodds, owner and developer of the tract, who is giving his time from three until five every afternoon to the business of selling the lots in the office of E. A. Anderson in the Allen building, has had many more requests for prices and information.

Lot number one in the block No. 1, which is situated on the corner of Detroit boulevard and Church street, has been particularly attractive to two prospective customers. One which to erect a residence in the front of the lot, and a store room in the rear, while the other wished to put up an apartment house. Both offers were turned down by Mr. Dodds who specifies in his contract, that for twenty-five years there shall be no business building erected in the addition, and that single houses shall be erected on each lot. This is for the purpose of protecting the subdivision as purely residential district. This corner lot is the highest priced in the addition, being priced at $3,350.

Mr. Dodds, whose purchase and development of the Roberts estate was the outgrowth of a dream, has a plan in mind for the development of Block No. 5, in the rear of the Carnegie Library, that would make that tract most attractive. The block contains 14 building lots, surrounded by Edison boulevard, Monroe street, Hayes avenue and Garfield boulevard. Five of the lots face on Edison boulevard and five on Monroe streets. It is Mr. Dodds' suggestion that ten people go together and purchase the entire fourteen lots, using the four lots that face on Hayes Ave. and one on Garfield boulevard as a court, where tennis courts and children's recreation grounds could be maintained.

LABOR BUREAU TO COLLECT EVIDENCE ON SOVIET RUSSIA

London, Feb. 27.—The labor bureau of the league of nations has already begun to collect evidence on the internal situation in soviet Russia and the workings of the Bolshevik government at Moscow, it was announced today by Albert Thomas, former socialist member of the cabinet and French representative on the international labor organization formed under the league of nations. M. Thomas revealed for the first time that this work had been quietly going on for some time.

"One of the reasons for the turmoil in the countries of western Europe, and one of the causes of the fascination of Bolshevism to many minds its the fact that we are utterly in the dark as to what it really means," said Mr. Thomas.

"The labor bureau," of its own initiative has been collecting and weighing the evidence and information from Russia for some time, meanwhile inquiring into the moral and material status of the Russian workers.

"To insure a return to moral stability in the west it is essential we should know what is going on. The world is thirsting for the truth. Nothing is so productive of mischief as ignorance and obscurity.

"If the proposed mission to Russia does nothing more than to make clear certain facts about Bolshevism it will serve an invaluable purpose."

RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS

This Prescription Gives Real Relief

Money Refunded If Two Bottles Fail to Relieve You.

Here's a man who tells about his experience with Prescription C-2223. "For years I suffered with rheumatism. No treatment gave me any relief. Finally I became so disguested that I threw all of the doctor's medicine away. Several recommeneded Prescription C-2223, but as I could then hardly walk I thought that there was no hope of ever getting well. I commenced taking Prescription C-2223, and from the begining began to improve. Customers now coming into my store are surprised and delighted to see and hear of my relief. I have taken eight large bottles and can now walk as good as any man. I shall always recommend Prescription C-2223 for rheumatic troubles." Geo. Kneosha, 401 South Fifteenth Street, St. Louis, Mo.

When you take Prescription C-2223, it's almost the same as consulting a specialist in rheumatic and blood diseases. This treatment was worked out by a successful physician and used by him in his private practice. If it gave his patients relief, it is not surprising that this same treatment, known as Prescription C-2223, should continue to relieve thousands suffering from rheumatism, gout, lumbago and scitatica.

The present manufacturers are so certain that Prescription C-2223 will benefit you, that they authorize druggists to refund the price of two $1.50 bottles if you are not entirely satisfied. If you are suffering from some chronic rheumatic trouble, go to your druggist today. If he wont supply you, send $1.75 for a bottle and a box of 2223 Liver Pills. Write Dept. 122, 2223 Laboratory, Memphis, Tenn., for literature, 1920 Almanac and sample of the pills.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I would like your advice concerning my gentleman friend, who thinks the world of me, but still I do not understand him.

He was to come up to see me one evening or in the afternoon. My sister who is fifteen years old went downtown to get tickets for the evening show for herself and some friends. She met him and talked to him for a while. Then she said she was cold and would go. He then asked her to go to the show with him.

I have been sick for quite a while, but not sick enough to be in bed. He knew it, because I did not work. He came in the evening and acted very queer. I asked him what the matter was and he said it was nothing. He had told my sister not to tell.

We were all talking and she thoughtlessly mentioned going to the show with him. My friend did not know what to say and turned all colors. I took it good naturedly, but it hurt me.

Do you think it was right for him to do this? I did not care because he took her to the show, but to think he told her not to tell. He has asked me to be his wife and spoken to my father concerning the matter. Would you treat him the same?

BLUE EYES.

I agree with you that it was all right for the young man to take your sister to the show, but wrong for him to try to deceive you. He probably thought you would be hurt if you knew and he wanted to save your feelings. This of course was the wrong attitude, because he should do nothing which would make it necessary for him to deceive. Tell him that there cannot be love without trust and he must not do such a thing again. This time try to forget the incident.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl twenty years of age. I loved a man twenty-nine years old when I was eighteen, and at that time my people objected on account of my youth. He went away to France and the consequence is we have drifted apart.

I always have loved him and find myself continually thinking of and comparing him with my new friends. They always fall short and this almost breaks my heart. I received just a friendly letter from him not long ago, telling me of his engagement. I answered, wishing him happiness.

I have had proposals lately and find I love neither and at the present am engaged to a man whom I have always known. He is still in college and we are not to marry until he has a start in life. He tells me he loves me dearly, but I only love him as a brotner.

Would you marry the one I am engaged to or would you wait and see if there is another who loved you as the first one you loved with all your soul?

I have regretted one thousand times that I did not marry the one I sincerely love and have decided that my parents shall never again influence me as to the one I shall marry.

DEW DROP.

Break your engagement now and wait for a real love. It is not honorable to remain engaged while you wait for another love to appear. You are very young and will surely find happiness later. I believe that sometime you will thank your parents with all your heart for helping to keep you free so that you could marry the "only" man. Keep your faith that he is coming, and be loyal to him while you wait. An engagement to a man you do not love is unworthy of you.

HOW TO USE VICK'S VAPORUB TO PREVENT FLU

FLU GERMS ARE BREATHED IN. INFLAMED AIR PASSAGES MAKE IDEAL BREEDING GROUNDS FOR THESE GERMS.

KEEP AIR PASSAGES OPEN

Melt a Little Vick's VapoRub in a Spoon Night and Morning and Inhale Vapors—Also Apply Up the Nostrils Several Times a Day, Especially Just Before Being Exposed to Crowds.

Flu This Year is Milder

While we know very little more about the flu now than we did last year—the germ itself has never been positively identified—still most authorities agree that the flu germs are breathed in. If the system is in good shape and the membrane or lining of the air passages is in healthy condition—these germs are thrown off.

A good plan is to melt a little Vick's VapoRub in a spoon night and morning, and inhale the vapors, also apply a little up the nostrils several times a day, especially just before being exposed to crowds.

Treat All Colds Promptly

Above all, keep free from colds, as colds irritate the lining of the air passages and make them real breeding grounds for germs. Prompt use of Vick's VapoRub aids in preventing colds. For head colds, sore throat or hoarseness, rub Vick's well over the throat and chest and cover with a warm flannel cloth. For deep chest colds, severe sore throat or bronchitis, hot wet towels should first be applied to the throat, chest and back between the shoulder blades to open the pores. Then Vick's should be rubbed in over the parts until the skin is red—spread on thickly and covered with two thicknesses of hot flannel cloths. Leave the cloth ing loose around the neck, so the vapors, released by the body heat, may be freely inhaled.

These vapors, inhaled with each breath, carry the medication directly to the lungs and air passages. At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin, thus aiding to relieve the congestion within.

Use of External Treatment for Colds Increasing

Vick's VapoRub is the discovery of a North Carolina druggist who found how to combine in salve form, the standard time tested remedies, Camphor — Menthol—Eucalyptus—Thyme, etc—so that when the salve is applied to the body heat, these ingredients are liberated in the form of vapors.

Vick's is particularly recommended for children's croup or colds, since it is externally applied and therefore can be used freely and often without the slightest harmful effects.

The best evidence of the value of Vicks is the steadily increasing number of people who have been converted to the use of this "outside" treatment.

Beginning with the customers of a small retail drug store, the use of Vicks has grown—year by year—state by state—until now more than 17 million jars are used annually. And this is spite of the fact that Vicks is a new form of treatment to many folks in the North and West. Vicks can be had at all druggists in three sizes 30c, 60c or $1.20.

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE SATURDAY

If you are in love, if you are married, if you are divorced, or if you never intend to marry, you should see "The Revelations of a Wife," which will play at the Opera House Saturday, matinee and night, is the advice of many.

The play is from the story of the same name, which ran in serial form in a number of newspapers. It is staged with an exceptionally strong cast and the plot is of a mysterious order, which seems to be the type of the legitimate that is proving most popular at this time.

Victory Manager After Xenia Interests

J. E. Pedelle, manager of the New Victory theater, who is popularizing his theater with Xenia patrons by making every effort to care for mail and phone orders for reservations, has another pleasant booking this week in "Roly Boly Eyes."

The offering is in the judgment of Xenia fans the best they have seen this season. The production features that comedy King, Eddie Leonard, who is a side splitting scream, and it also boasts an unusual plot, with plenty of sparkling music and splendid dancing.

O'BRIEN PLAYERS HERE MARCH 9TH

"The Real Thing After All," the production to be presented March 9th, by the O'Brien Players of Dayton is drawing considerable attention.

The play is being brought here by Central High School to provide funds for various school and educational purposes. The money derived will be used to bring several noted speakers to the local school to talk at assemblies, part of the proceeds will be given to the Central Hi Review, the weekly publication of the school, and the rest will be used to make up the deficit in the athletic association treasury.

PURCHASE LOTS IN ADDITION TO THE CITY

Both men secured their deeds this week. Mr. Long purchased lot number two, in Block No. 1, which lies on Church street, one lot east from the corner of Detroit and Church. Mr Buell purchased lot number three in the same block, next to that secured by Mr. Long, price of each lot $2,000.

C. A. Weaver and J. A. Daily have also purchased lots in the addition, Mr. Weaver securing number nine in block No. 1, and Mr. Daly number ten in the same block. The purchase price was $1 800. The lots face east on Corwin road.

While these represent the only completed sales so far, F. W. Dodds, owner and developer of the tract, who is giving his time from three until five every afternoon to the business of selling the lots in the office of E. A. Anderson in the Allen building, has had many more requests for prices and information.

Lot number one in the block No. 1, which is situated on the corner of Detroit boulevard and Church street, has been particularly attractive to two prospective customers. One which to erect a residence in the front of the lot, and a store room in the rear, while the other wished to put up an apartment house. Both offers were turned down by Mr. Dodds who specifies in his contract, that for twenty-five years there shall be no business building erected in the addition, and that single houses shall be erected on each lot. This is for the purpose of protecting the subdivision as purely residentian district. This corner lot is the highest priced in the addition, being priced at $3,350.

Mr. Dodds, whose purchase and development of the Roberts estate was the outgrowth of a dream, has a plan in mind for the development of Block No. 5, in the rear of the Carnegie Library, that would make that tract most attractive. The block contains 14 building lots, surrounded by Edison boulevard, Monroe street, Hayes avenue and Garfield boulevard. Five of the lots face on Edison boulevard and five on Monroe streets. It is Mr. Dodds' suggestion that ten people go together and purchase the entire fourteen lots, using the four lots that face on Hayes Ave. and one on Garfield boulevard as a court, where tennis courts and children's recreation grounds could be maintained.

STUNT DAY CELEBRATED

A novel idea was inaugurated in Central High school Wednesday, when the boys appeared decked out in derby hats while the fair sex wore their hair in pigtails.

A regular stunt day was planned and the students fell in with the plan, and the result was all that had been expected.

Derbies, of all sizes, colors, and styles adorned the craniums of the boys and many unusual and amusing appearances were present. A number dressed in variation to the usual mode and wing colars with black and white bow ties, boiled shirts, and fancy or dress vests were not uncommen.

The girls presented various methods in hair-dressing, pigtails and braids being the most numerous. The staid and dignified seniors were given a care-free appearance while little difference was noticed in the Freshmen.

NATIONAL SONG WEEK OBSERVED

All over the country "National Song Week" is being celebrated from February 23rd to 28th. A short assembly is held every morning to sing and various types of songs will be used on different days. Plantation songs were used on Tuesday, and everyone enjoyed singing these old melodies. Wednesday morning, "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Auld Lang Syne," were rendered under the direction of Miss Haynes.

Much interest is being aroused by the Junior assembly which is to be held on Friday. A short play, some musical numbers and various other types of amusement have been arranged and it is promised that the assembly will surpass all previous ones.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Rev. W. C. Allen was the speaker at the chapel services Monday morning. Several of the school's patrons were present.

The essay contest offered by the War Department was received at Lincoln and East Main street schools with much enthusiasm, the entries being 100 percent. Wednesday morning the students were assembled, each eager to learn whom the fortunate ones were. Principal Taylor soon relieved the situation by opening the sealed envelopes which contained the decision of the judges. It was proved that Gertrude Holmes, class of '20, was winner from the Senior High; Lois Shields from the Junior High, and Ethel Baker from the grades.

Thursday morning the student body was again assembled, and proudly witnessed the rewarding of the victors by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Each winner was given $5 in gold.

A number of the teachers attended the Founder's Day celebration at Wilberforce, Wednesday evening.

The Bureau of Health Inspection has completed its examination in the public schools. Quite a few children were found to have abnormal physical conditions. The parent's attention is called to the fact that no child who is physically weak, can do good mental work. A weak body and a working mind do not go together. This is often the cause of pupils being retarded in school, it is said.

As each parent is interest in his child's welfare, it is urged that these defects be remedied as soon as possible. A card was given each child showing the results of his or her examination. Many parents have already consulted their physician or specialist and either had their children treated ar have made arrangements for same, in the near future.

If the collar doesn't hug your neck first pop out of the box—it never will.

So rather than attempt the impossible—and you know it's impossible—we try on you a coat that fits you WITHOUT alterations.

The man in front of you last night at the movies had the kind of a fit that you don't want—his coat collar stayed away from the back of his neck like a duck shuns a desert and what might have been a perfect picture was spoiled by the hiatus. Every suit we sell is carefully watched at the collar—therefore when you are in our house your clothes are on close terms with your curves.

STUNT DAY CELEBRATED

A novel idea was inaugurated in Central High school Wednesday, when the boys appeared decked out in derby hats while the fair sex wore their hair in pigtails.

A regular stunt day was planned and the students fell in with the plan, and the result was all that had been expected.

Derbies, of all sizes, colors, and styles adorned the craniums of the boys and many unusual and amusing appearances were present. A number dressed in variation to the usual mode and wing colars with black and white bow ties, boiled shirts, and fancy or dress vests were not uncommon.

The girls presented various methods in hair-dressing, pigtails and braids being the most numerous. The staid and dignified seniors were given a care-free appearance while little difference was noticed in the Freshmen.

NATIONAL SONG WEEK OBSERVED

All over the country "National Song Week" is being celebrated from February 23rd to 28th. A short assembly is held every morning to sing and various types of songs will be used on different days. Plantation songs were used on Tuesday, and everyone enjoyed singing these old melodies. Wednesday morning, "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "Auld Lang Syne," were rendered under the direction of Miss Haynes.

Much interest is being aroused by the Junior assembly which is to be held on Friday. A short play, some musical numbers and various other types of amusement have been arranged and it is promised that the assembly will surpass all previous ones.

LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Rev. W. C. Allen was the speaker at the chapel services Monday morning. Several of the school's patrons were present.

The essay contest offered by the War Department was received at Lincoln and East Main street schools with much enthusiasm, the entries being 100 percent. Wednesday morning the students were assembled, each eager to learn whom the fortunate ones were. Principal Taylor soon relieved the situation by opening the sealed envelopes which contained the decision of the judges. It was proved that Gertrude Holmes, class of '20, was winner from the Senior High; Lois Shields from the Junior High, and Ethel Baker from the grades.

Thursday morning the student body was again assembled, and proudly witnessed the rewarding of the victors by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce. Each winner was given $5 in gold.

A number of the teachers attended the Founder's Day celebration at Wilberforce, Wednesday evening.

The Bureau of Health Inspection has completed its examination in the public schools. Quite a few children were found to have abnormal physical conditions. The parent's attention is called to the fact that no child who is physically weak, can do good mental work. A weak body and a working mind do not go together. This is often the cause of pupils being retarded in school, it is said.

As each parent is interest in his child's welfare, it is urged that these defects be remedied as soon as possible. A card was given each child showing the results of his or her examination. Many parents have already consulted their physician or specialist and either had their children treated ar have made arrangements for same, in the near future.

BILL WOULD SET 16 PAGE LIMIT ON NEWSPAPERS

Washington, Feb. 29.—Representative Fuller of Illinois is the author of the latest attempt to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals, although Congress has gone on record with considerable firmness as opposed to any such proposition for the present.

Mr. Fuller's bill fixes 16 pages as the maximum for daily, weekly and semi-weekly papers; 48 pages for Sunday issues; and further states that no quarterly, monthly or semi-monthly periodical shall contain more than 100 pages.

Penalty for violation of the regulations would deny publishers the use of the second class mails and rates.

Mr. Fuller also has introduced a bill to prohibit the export of news print or wood pulp from the United States for a year. The two measures have been referred to the ways and means committee.

Everyone expects drastic action before long. Every Congressman and Senator has expressed the hope that the big publishers who have been reaping enormous profits in the last year would come together and agree voluntarily to a reduction in the use of news print.

And now comes the case of a city official, who takes the blue ribbon first prize in the "recipe for disposing of your wife" contest.

Along with his claim, this official probably has reason to be proud for getting away from the entire Dayton police force, while the minions of the law threw a net about the city and conducted a vigorous search for him.

It all happened this way. Mr. —— went to Dayton by rail on business. Mrs. —— used the family car and drove to Dayton in company with several other women. She left the car parked on the street.

The city official after arriving in Dayton saw his machine on the street and appropriated it for his own use. Having finished his business he forgot about his wife and her party of friends, and after driving over Dayton, returned to his home here.

And in the meantime—as they say in the comics, his wife finding the car was gone, reported to the Dayton police that it had been stolen, and the guardians of the law threw out the police dragnet to catch the thief. While the bulls were watching with shaded eyes on every corner, Mr. —— drove up and down the streets until he decided to come home.

THE GOOD NEWS SPREAD FAST.

One person after the other kept telling about what good Dreco was doing, so finally this lady bought a bottle.

"It seemed like the good news of what Dreco was doing spread fast, for I kept hearing people talk about what it was doing until I decided to get a bottle also," said Mrs. Wm. A. Gast, 1314 Putnam St., Sandusky, O.

"I've suffered agonies from gastritis. My food soured in my stomach, filled me with gas, and caused griping pains and a choking feeling in my throat. My bowels were constipated so that I had to take medicine almost every night for them. I had been under treatment for kidney trouble for months—seems I had taken everything except the right thing. I was losing hope of ever being real well again. When I started taking Dreco I was truly in a bad condition, for I could eat but very little solid food. Dreco acted in a soothing manner on my stomach and topped the gas almost at once. My food began to nourish me and my nerves got steady. My bowels acted in a normal way each day: the headaches stopped and my sleep became restful, and I'd rise in the morning feeling refreshed. Dreco has proven a wonderful tonic to my vital organs and made a new woman out of me."

Dreco is made from the pure liquid extracts of many herbal plants, which act on the stomach, liver kidneys, bowels and enrich the blood.

NEW TURN NOW TAKEN IN TRIAL OF SEN. NEWBERRY

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 27.—An attempt to prove that many of the nominating petitions circulated in behalf of the 1918 senatorial candidacy of James W. Helme, Henry Ford's opponent in the Democratic primaries, were written by Richard Fletcher, state labor commissioner and a Newberry henchman, was expected to occupy part of today's session of the Newberry trial.

According to the government's contention, many of the petitions for Helme, who is alleged to have run against Ford at the behest of the Newberry campaigners, getting a "salary" for so doing, were prepared by Fletcher in his own handwriting. The government also contends that numerous of the petition signatures of which there were more than the number of votes polled by Helme, were false.

Francis F. Courtney, of Detroit, a handwriting expert, will be called on today to establish the handwriting as Fletcher's. Wether others of the defendants will be involved was not revealed by government counsel.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

Question on Lips of Afflicted.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment. BILL WOULD SET 16 PAGE LIMIT ON NEWSPAPERS

Washington, Feb. 29.—Representative Fuller of Illinois is the author of the latest attempt to limit the size of newspapers and periodicals, although Congress has gone on record with considerable firmness as opposed to any such proposition for the present.

Mr. Fuller's bill fixes 16 pages as the maximum for daily, weekly and semi-weekly papers; 48 pages for Sunday issues; and further states that no quarterly, monthly or semi-monthly periodical shall contain more than 100 pages.

Mr. Fuller also has introduced a bill to prohibit the export of news print or wood pulp from the United States for a year. The two measures have been referred to the ways and means committee.

Everyone expects drastic action before long. Every Congressman and Senator has expressed the hope that the big publishers who have been reaping enormous profits in the last year would come together and agree voluntarily to a reduction in the use of news print.

And now comes the case of a city offcial, who takes the blue ribbon first prize in the "recipe for disposing of your wife" contest.

Along with his claim, this official probably has reason to be proud for getting away from the entire Dayton police force, while the minions of the law threw a net about the city and conducted a vigorous search for him.

It all happened this way. Mr. —— went to Dayton by rail on business. Mrs. —— used the family car and drove to Dayton in company with several other women. She left the car parked on the street.

The city official after arriving in Dayton saw his machine on the street and appropriated it for his own use. Having finished his business he forgot about his wife and her party of friends, and after driving over Dayton, returned to his home here.

And in the meantime—as they say in the comics, his wife finding the car was gone, reported to the Dayton police that it had been stolen, and the guardians of the law threw out the police dragnet to catch the thief. While the bulls were watching with shaded eyes on every corner, Mr. —— drove up and down the streets until he decided to come home.

THE GOOD NEWS SPREAD FAST.

One person after the other kept telling about what good Dreco was doing, so finally this lady bought a bottle.

"It seemed like the good news of what Dreco was doing spread fast, for I kept hearing people talk about what it was doing until I decided to get a bottle also," said Mrs. Wm. A. Gast, 1314 Putnam St., Sandusky, O.

"I've suffered agonies from gastritis. My food soured in my stomach, filled me with gas, and caused griping pains and a choking feeling in my throat. My bowels were constipated so that I had to take medicine almost every night for them. I had been under treatment for kidney trouble for months—seems I had taken everything except the right thing. I was losing hope of ever being real well again. When I started taking Dreco I was truly in a bad condition, for I could eat but very little solid food. Dreco acted in a soothing manner on my stomach and topped the gas almost at once. My food began to nourish me and my nerves got steady. My bowels acted in a normal way each day; the headaches stopped and my sleep became restful, and I'd rise in the morning feeling refreshed. Dreco has proven a wonderful tonic to my vital organs and made a new woman out of me."

Dreco is made from the pure liquid extracts of many herbal plants, which act on the stomach, liver kidneys, bowels and enrich the blood.

NEW TURN NOW TAKEN IN TRIAL OF SEN. NEWBERRY

Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 27.—An attempt to prove that many of the nominating petitions circulated in behalf of the 1918 senatorial candidacy of James W. Helme, Henry Ford's opponent in the Democratic primaries, were written by Richard Fletcher, state labor commissioner and a Newberry henchman, was expected to occupy part of today's session of the Newberry trial.

According to the government's contention, many of the petitions for Helme, who is alleged to have run against Ford at the behest of the Newberry campaigners, getting a "salary" for so doing, were prepared by Fletcher in his own handwriting. The government also contends that numerous of the petition signatures of which there were more than the number of votes polled by Helme, were false.

Francis F. Courtney, of Detroit, a handwriting expert, will be called on today to establish the handwriting as Fletcher's. Wether others of the defendants will be involved was not revealed by government counsel.

Where Can I Find Relief From Itching, Terrifying Eczema?

Question on Lips of Afflicted.

There is a harrassing discomfort caused by Eczema that almost becomes a torture. The itching is almost unbearable, and the skin seems on fire with the burning irritation. A cure from local applications of salves and ointments is impossible, because such treatment can only allay the pain temporarily. The disease can only be reached by going deep down to its source, which is in the blood, the disease being caused by an infection which breaks out through the skin. That is why the most satisfactory treatment for all so-called skin diseases is S. S. S., which acts by cleansing the blood. Get a bottle to-day, and you will see results from the right treatment. Medical advice free. Address Medical Director, 48 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

SECOND DEATH IN FAMILY STRICKEN WITH PNEUMONIA

Two weeks ago the father, Charles Jones, died of pneumonia, after a few days illness. The whole family was stricken, and neighbors who learned of their plight by accident, came to their assistance. Through the local Red Cross, a nurse was sent to the home to take care of the living. The three other children are convalescing, but little Hazel, who developed pleurisy, and a general toxemic condition grew worse. Desperately ill, she was brought to the McClellan hospital Wednesday.

So crowded was the hospital that a cot had to be placed in the nurse's sitting room to accomodate the little one. The child's body was taken in charge by Undertaker Burr of Jamestown, and was removed to the office of Undertaker J. H. Nagley. Friday morning it was taken to Jamestown, and burial will be made at South Solon.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Must Try Vola-Tonic to Understand Says Woman Whom It Helped.

"I do not hesitate to recommend recommend Vola-Tonic because I know what it will do," said Mrs. Flora Bailey, 327 West Court street, Cincinnati, O.

"I doubt if people can fully realize how much this medicine helps a person until they try it themselves," Mrs. Bailey continued.

"My stomach was in very bad condition and I was troubled with indigestion and constipation. I didn't have much appetite and didn't eat a great deal but just the little I ate caused me to suffer afterward with indigestion. The constipation was so bad that I had severe headaches often. I always felt tired and worn out in mornings, too. My sleep didn't seem to do me a bit of good.

"All this trouble is gone since I have been taking Vola-Tonic and I am in normal condition again. My appetite has improved and my food digests properly now. The constipation has left me, too, and those severe headaches I used to have are gone. When I get up in mornings I feel refreshed and energetic and ready for my work.

"I know people can't realize how much better I feel until they take Vola-Tonic themselves."

If you are feling weak and run down get Vola-Tonic "Builder of Strength"—TODAY!

Vola-Tonic is being specially introduced in Xenia at Sayre & Hemphill's and in Jamestown by W. F. Harper.

Quick Action Corn Cure

"Gets-It" Stops Pain Instantly and Corn Soon Lifts Right Off.

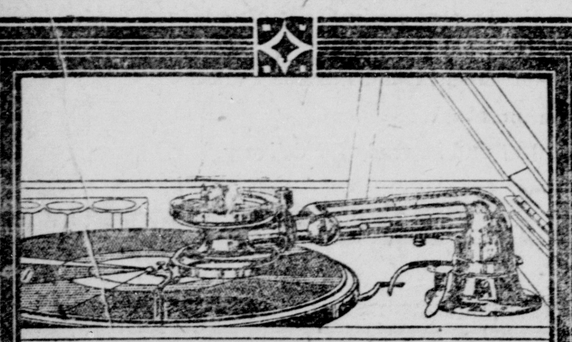

A few drops of "Gets-It" quenches corn pains like water quenches fire. Gives you immediate relief.

The corn begins to lose its grip at once. In a day or two it is so loose that you can lift it off, roots and all, 'twixt thumb and finger. That's the last of it, as millions have found out. It is the simple, effective and common-sense way to be rid of corns.

"Gets-It," the never-failing, guaranteed, money-back corn remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mf'd by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

Sold in Xenia and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Sayre & Hemphill and D. D. Jones.

The Brunswick Ultona

Plays ALL Records At Their BEST

ONLY on The Brunswick can you obtain this great feature—the Ultona all-record player. It is a year or two in advance.

With the Ultona you are not restricted to one make of records. You can play them all. And each is played as it should be, with the proper diaphragm, weight and needle.

Another determining feature of the Brunswick Method of Reproduction is the All-Wood Tone Amplifier, made entirely of wood on the violin principle. All metal construction is avoided, bringing out in rich clarity tones hitherto lost.

Once you know The Brunswick, all other phonographs lose their appeal.

SECOND DEATH IN FAMILY STRICKEN WITH PNEUMONIA

Two weeks ago the father, Charles Jones, died of pneumonia, after a few days illness. The whole family was stricken, and neighbors who learned of their plight by accident, came to their assistance. Through the local Red Cross, a nurse was sent to the home to take care of the living. The three other children are convalescing, but little Hazel, who developed pleurisy, and a general toxemic condition grew worse. Desperately ill, she was brought to the McClellan hospital Wednesday.

So crowded was the hospital that a cot had to be placed in the nurse's sitting room to accomodate the little one. The child's body was taken in charge by Undertaker Burr of Jamestown, and was removed to the office of Undertaker J. H. Nagley. Friday morning it was taken to Jamestown, and burial will be made at South Solon.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

C. OF C. BANQUET CHANGED TO 6.45

The time of the February banquet of the Chamber of Commerce to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms this evening, has been changed from 6:30 to 6:45.

It is thought that Judge James G. Johnson, of the Ohio State Supreme Court, who will be the speaker, can make better train connections at that time, so the hour was set back fifteen minutes.

Judge Johnson is said to be one of the best speakers on the Supreme Court bench. He will speak on "Reconstruction Problems." The banquet is in the hands of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kany.

CLUB WORK FOR BOYS AND GIRLS TOPIC OF MEET

The boys and girls' club work, which is to be taken up in the spring for the young folks of Beavercreek township by the Farm Bureau, will be among topics discussed and explained at the meeting to be held under the direction of the Greene County Farm Bureau at the K. of P. Hall in Alph Monday night. The meeting is calle for 7:30.

The principal speakers for the evening will be J. Mason Prugh, president of the Montgomery County Farm Bureau, and Mr. Beason, county Y. M. C. A., leader in Dayton. It is expected that a calf and pig club will be started among the boys, but the exact line of work for the girls has not been decided upon. They may be formed into poultry raising clubs.

A farm bureau meeting will be held in Fairfield Tuesday night, at which co-operative marketing will be discussed. An egg marketing plan is to be talked about. At Spring Valley Wednesday night, another meeting under the direction of the bureau will be held for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the Spring Valley township co-operative sale which is to be [illegible] March 6. This co-operative sal is an experiment and the rural part of the county is watching it with considerable interest. About sixty people have contributed articles to the sale, including live stock of all kinds, and farming implements. The sale will be conducted on the streets of the village, and is expected to attract a large crowd.

Good roads were discussed at a farm bureau meeting at Cedarville Tuesday night. Last night at Bowersville representative W. B. Bryson gave a talk on the status of legislation in particular tax legislation. County Agent Ford S. Prince talked about plans for the year's work.

Miss Sada F. Stanle of Cardington, Ohio, will be in Greene county for the week end to present the Missionary work of the Friends Church in the island of Jamaica. DEMOCRATS OFFER OPPOSITION TO PROHIBITION BILL

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The Democratic platform builders of the unofficial state convention, after an all night session here, reached an agreement to insert a blank announcing the party's opposition to prohibition in its present form. The platform will be submitted for the action of the convention this afternoon.

The builders of the platform agreed to this plank in the face of a general sentiment among the delegates that prohibition in its present form is distasteful to New York Democracy.

The platform will also contain a plank favoring "A" league of nations, without specifically endorcing "The" league of nations sponsored by the national administration.

"Widow by Proxy"

Should a lady pretend she's a widow,
When she's really a bachelor maid?
And announce she's the daughter of millions,
While she's worried with bills to be paid?

Have you heard of this "Widow by Proxy?"
This sublime little slip of a girl,
Who, a vision in black, took a brodie,
And set every heart in a whirl?

It's Marguerite Clark; and deceiving
Made her more than a "widow"—a wife.
Was it worth it? Why not see the picture?
You'll be sure of the time of your life.

CLUB WORK FOR BOYS AND GIRLS TOPIC OF MEET

The boys and girls' club work, which is to be taken up in the spring for the young folks of Beavercreek township by the Farm Bureau, will be among topics discussed and explained at the meeting to be held under the direction of the Greene County Farm Bureau at the K. of P. Hall in Alpha Monday night. The meeting is called for 7:30.

The principal speakers for the evening will be J. Mason Prugh, president of the Montgomery County Farm Bureau, and Mr. Beason, county Y. M. C. A., leader in Dayton. It is expected that a calf and pig club will be started among the boys, but the exact line of work for the girls has not been decided upon. They may be formed into poultry raising clubs.

A farm bureau meeting will be held in Fairfield Tuesday night, at which co-operative marketing will be discussed. An egg marketing plan is to be talked about. At Spring Valley Wednesday night, another meeting under the direction of the bureau will be held for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the Spring Valley township co-operative sale which is to be held March 6. This co-operative sale is an experiment and the rural part of the county is watching it with considerable interest. About sixty people have contributed articles to the sale, including live stock of all kinds, and farming implements. The sale will be conducted on the streets of the village, and is expected to attract a large crowd.

Good roads were discussed at a farm bureau meeting at Cedarville Tuesday night. Last night at Bowersville representative W. B. Bryson gave a talk on the status of legislation in particular tax legislation. County Agent Ford S. Prince talked about plans for the year's work.

Miss Sada F. Stanle of Cardington, Ohio, will be in Greene county for the week end to present the Missionary work of the Friends Church in the island of Jamaica. DEMOCRATS OFFER OPPOSITION TO PROHIBITION BILL

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 27.—The Democratic platform builders of the unofficial state convention, after an all night session here, reached an agreement to insert a blank announcing the party's opposition to prohibition in its present form. The platform will be submitted for the action of the convention this afternoon.

The builders of the platform agreed to this plank in the face of a general sentiment among the delegates that prohibition in its present form is distasteful to New York Democracy.

The platform will also contain a plank favoring "A" league of nations, without specifically endorcing "The" league of nations sponsored by the national administration.

"Widow by Proxy"

Should a lady pretend she's a widow,
When she's really a bachelor maid?
And announce she's the daughter of millions,
While she's worried with bills to be paid?

Have you heard of this "Widow by Proxy?"
This sublime little slip of a girl,
Who, a vision in black, took a brodie,
And set every heart in a whirl?

It's Marguerite Clark; and deceiving
Made her more than a "widow"—a wife.
Was it worth it? Why not see the picture?
You'll be sure of the time of your life.

GIRL ATTEMPTS SUICIDE RATHER THAN FACE ACCUSED

Cleveland, Feb. 27.—Dread of appearing before the grand jury as a witness against two court attaches accused of having attacked her caused 15-year old Anna Bitterman to attempt suicide by drinking denatured alcohol early this morning. She is in a critical condition at the Lakewood hospital.

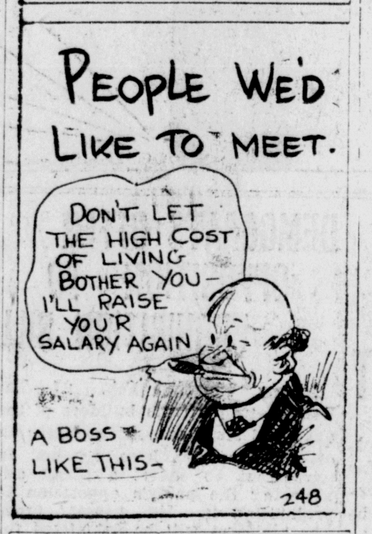

The girl became a ward of juvenile court when she ran away from her home in Youngstown. Probation officials reported to the county prosecutor on Wednesday that the girl had been attacked in a private office at the courthouse by court attaches. In a note written before she drank the poison the girl stated that she "could not stand it any longer and wanted to die."

CAKES

Eggless, Butterless, Milkless Cake—Put into a sauce pan the following ingredients: One cup brown sugar, one cup water, two cups raisins, one-third cup lard, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ground cloves, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Boil together for three minutes; then set aside to cool; when cool add two cups of flour into which has been sifted one-half teaspoon baking powder; add teaspoon soda dissolved in a little hot water; bake in a slow oven.

White Cake—Two scant cups granulated sugar mixed with the well beaten whites of three eggs. Take one-half cup lard, add one-half teaspoon salt and beat with a fork till it looks like whipped cream. Add one cup cold water, one teaspoon vanilla, two teaspoons baking powder sifted with three scant cups flour.

Icing: Boil one cup sugar until it hardens in water and beat into the white of one egg which has already been whipped stiff; flavor with a few drops of vanilla.

This cake, when made right, can't be beaten, and is cheap. Any cake that calls for butter and milk will have as good a flavor by using cold water and lard beaten light with a little salt.

President's Cake—Two cups light brown sugar (sifted), one-half cup butter, creamed together; one egg and two yolks well beaten, three level cups sifted flour, one cup sour milk, one-half teaspoon soda dissolved in milk, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups chopped raisins, one-third teaspoon cinnamon.

Bake in three layers and put boiled frosting made of light brown sugar between layers.

Hickorynut Cake—One cup butter, two and one-half cups sugar, one cup sweet milk, five eggs, three and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one pint hickorynut kernels, one pound raisins, if desired; one-half teaspoon grated orange or lemon peel.

Bake in a square pan and bake in two sheels. Let bake about one hour.

TASTY SALADS

Grapefruit Salad—Grapefruit free from all skin and place on lettuce leaf, serve with mayonnais made with lemon juice. If you have maple sugar grate over salad just before serving.

Butterfly Salad—With the two halves of a slice of pineapple for wings, a small and large ripe olive for the head and body respectively, and two small strips of pimento for the antenae, form a butterfly on a bed of lettuce leaves. The wings may be decorated with cross sections of stuffed olives, dots of pimento, cheese, or in any other way ingenuity may suggest.

The dressing for this salad (either French dressing or mayonnaise) will have to be passed in a mayonnaise bowl in order not to spoil the effect of the butterfly.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED---AND EARNED

BY JANE PHELPS

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

A POVERTY PARTY

CHAPTER 63

Betty ushered us into the living room, where all but Marion were assembled. I noticed Robert looked sharply about, but he said nothing.

"We'll wait here until Marion comes," Betty said, after we had greeted all present. I could not avoid seeing, and being pleased, at the flash of pleasure in Gardner Kenyons eyes when he thanked me for being the reason for his being there. But everyone was so hilarious, and looked so ridiculous in their old costumes, that we had no time for any further conversation just then.

"You look lovely, Gerry!" Mary said, "Where did you get that dress? I never saw you wear it."

"It was the one she had on the day I got up courage to ask her to marry me," Robert said to my surprise. He had not mentioned it when I put it on.

"No wonder he wanted to marry you!" Jane broke in. "It is lovely on you."

The dress was a soft satiny thing of a faded sort of Alice blue—a color I had worn constantly as a girl, but which I had discarded since my marriage.

Just then Marion came in.

"Better late than never!" she said as she took off her coat and revealed herself dressed in the costume of Raggedty Ann, a doll made popular by the story in a new juvenile publication.

We all screamed with laughter.

"You clever girl!" Betty said with delight, "My party can't help being a success now. Then she led the way to the kitchen.

The supper was set out upon two bare kitchen tables pushed together. The room was lighted with tallow candles set in wide mouthed bottles so they wouldnt drip. We had paper plates, steel forks, the kitchen kind and pewter spoons. The center piece was made up of carrots with the green left on, and then grouped about them, potatoes, onions, etc. The place cards were written on brown paper, with a jingle under the names—Mary had done them for Betty.

I found myself between Frank Weed, and Gardner Kenyon, Marion Hovey was on his other side, and then Robert. Mary Ryan was between Carson Murphy and Jack Adler, while Betty and Jane took the other two places.

Each one had to read aloud before supper was served what Mary had written on their place cards, Betty informed us. The jingles were uproariously funny, and every one was apropos. Mary seemed to have a flair for that sort of thing, and had really outdone herself.

I noticed that Gardner Kenyon was immensely interested when he was told that Mary had written the jingles, and I had a bit of jealous feeling when I saw him look repeatedly in her direction.

It took us some time to quiet down after reading the nonsensical things, and then Betty said:

"Ragedty Ann, will you assist with the soup?" and Marion rose and with an elaborate courtesy signified her willingness to be waitress.

The potato soup served in paper cups, was delicious. Then as an entree we had pork and beans.

"Not one of the 57 varieties either; these are home grown," Marion said as she passed the wooden platter.

After that came the main course, corned beef and cabbage.

How we did eat, and what a good time we had! Robert was more like himself than he had been in weeks and weeks. We had our coffee with the dinner ,and Betty proposed a toast to him, the honor guest of the evening, at the same time apologizing to Gardner Kenyon, and telling him she would give another party for him some day.

"I surely will if you get run over by an automobile.'

"I have to get nearly killed to be honor guest, do I? I think I prefer to be one of the rabble," he returned. So in good natured repartee' we finished our dinner and then went into the living room to dance. Betty had a new victrola, and some of the late dance records. She also had planned a surprise for us.

CAKES

Eggless, Butterless, Milkless Cake—Put into a sauce pan the following ingredients: One cup brown sugar, one cup water, two cups raisins, one-third cup lard, one-quarter teaspoon nutmeg, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon ground cloves, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Boil together for three minutes; then set aside to cool; when cool add two cups of flour into which has been sifted one-half teaspoon baking powder; add teaspoon soda dissolved in a little hot water; bake in a slow oven.

White Cake—Two scant cups granulated sugar mixed with the well beaten whites of three eggs. Take one-half cup lard, add one-half teaspoon salt and beat with a fork till it looks like whipped cream. Add one cup cold water, one teaspoon vanilla, two teaspoons baking powder sifted with three scant cups flour.

Icing: Boil one cup sugar until it hardens in water and beat into the white of one egg which has already been whipped stiff; flavor with a few drops of vanilla.

This cake, when made right, can't be beaten, and is cheap. Any cake that calls for butter and milk will have as good a flavor by using cold water and lard beaten light with a little salt.

President's Cake—Two cups light brown sugar (sifted), one-half cup butter, creamed together; one egg and two yolks well beaten, three level cups sifted flour, one cup sour milk, one-half teaspoon soda dissolved in milk, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups chopped raisins, one-third teaspoon cinnamon.

Bake in three layers and put boiled frosting made of light brown sugar between layers.

Hickorynut Cake—One cup butter, two and one-half cups sugar, one cup sweet milk, five eggs, three and one-half cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one pint hickorynut kernels, one pound raisins, if desired; one-half teaspoon grated orange or lemon peel.

Bake in a square pan and bake in two sheels. Let bake about one hour.

TASTY SALADS

Grapefruit Salad—Grapefruit free from all skin and place on lettuce leaf, serve with mayonnais made with lemon juice. If you have maple sugar grate over salad just before serving.

Butterfly Salad—With the two halves of a slice of pineapple for wings, a small and large ripe olive for the head and body respectively, and two small strips of pimento for the antenae, form a butterfly on a bed of lettuce leaves. The wings may be decorated with cross sections of stuffed olives, dots of pimento, cheese, or in any other way ingenuity may suggest.

The dressing for this salad (either French dressing or mayonnaise) will have to be passed in a mayonnaise bowl in order not to spoil the effect of the butterfly.

THE WOMAN WHO LOVED---AND EARNED

A MODERN STORY OF HOME AND BUSINESS

A POVERTY PARTY

CHAPTER 63

Betty ushered us into the living room, where all but Marion were assembled. I noticed Robert looked sharply about, but he said nothing.

"We'll wait here until Marion comes," Betty said, after we had greeted all present. I could not avoid seeing, and being pleased, at the flash of pleasure in Gardner Kenyons eyes when he thanked me for being the reason for his being there. But everyone was so hilarious, and looked so ridiculous in their old costumes, that we had no time for any further conversation just then.

"You look lovely, Gerry!" Mary said, "Where did you get that dress? I never saw you wear it."

"It was the one she had on the day I got up courage to ask her to marry me," Robert said to my surprise. He had not mentioned it when I put it on.

"No wonder he wanted to marry you!" Jane broke in. "It is lovely on you.'

The dress was a soft satiny thing of a faded sort of Alice blue—a color I had worn constantly as a girl, but which I had discarded since my marriage.

Just then Marion came in.

"Better late than never!' she said as she took off her coat and revealed herself dressed in the costume of Raggedty Ann, a doll made popular by the story in a new juvenile publication.

We all screamed with laughter.

"You clever girl!" Betty said with delight, "My party can't help being a success now. Then she led the way to the kitchen.

The supper was set out upon two bare kitchen tables pushed together. The room was lighted with tallow candles set in wide mouthed bottles so they wouldnt drip. We had paper plates, steel forks, the kitchen kind and pewter spoons. The center piece was made up of carrots with the green left on, and then grouped about them, potatoes, onions, etc. The place cards were written on brown paper, with a jingle under the names—Mary had done them for Betty.

I found myself between Frank Weed, and Gardner Kenyon, Marion Hovey was on his other side, and then Robert. Mary Ryan was between Carson Murphy and Jack Adler, while Betty and Jane took the other two places.

Each one had to read aloud before supper was served what Mary had written on their place cards, Betty informed us. The jingles were uproariously funny, and every one was apropos. Mary seemed to have a flair for that sort of thing, and had really outdone herself.

I noticed that Gardner Kenyon was immensely interested when he was told that Mary had written the jingles, and I had a bit of jealous feeling when I saw him look repeatedly in her direction.

It took us some time to quiet down after reading the nonsensical things, and then Betty said:

"Ragedty Ann, will you assist with the soup?" and Marion rose and with an elaborate courtesy signified her willingness to be waitress.

The potato soup served in paper cups, was delicious. Then as an entree we had pork and beans.

"Not one of the 57 varieties either; these are home grown," Marion said as she passed the wooden platter.

After that came the main course, corned beef and cabbage.

How we did eat, and what a good time we had! Robert was more like himself than he had been in weeks and weeks. We had our coffee with the dinner ,and Betty proposed a toast to him, the honor guest of the evening, at the same time apologizing to Gardner Kenyon, and telling him she would give another party for him some day.

"I surely will if you get run over by an automobile.'

"I have to get nearly killed to be honor guest, do I? I think I prefer to be one of the rabble," he returned. So in good natured repartee' we finished our dinner and then went into the living room to dance. Betty had a new victrola, and some of the late dance records. She also had planned a surprise for us.
